The Accident to Henry Ford
Why Save the Chinese?
"News" of Coolidge Plans
Must We Have Coal Strikes?

By ARTHUR ERISSANS

The accident to Henry Ford, who was taken to his hospital in a small auto, is being followed over two or three miles in it.

Mr. Ford has been expressed as being in a serious condition. That stores established in the city have given to the accident.

It is not that, after walking to his car and spending 48 hours there, Mr. Ford was taken to his hospital. A well-known surgeon suggests that the accident to the hospital.

Mr. Ford's great wealth and his family own 100 per cent of his property in the United States makes the accident a matter of national importance.

Mr. Ford, fortunately, is known to be a man of unusual strength and endurance, well able to survive even a severe accident and operation.

HATRED of foreigners and attacks upon them are spreading throughout China, north as well as south. Missions refuse to leave their posts of duty keeping them at their posts of duty.

They are in China to give the Chinese an opportunity to go to heaven, but if they masses prefer to go in the other direction why not let them?

ANOTHER of our American warships in China has "found it necessary to let loose its guns." Chinese revolutionary troops fired on the destroyer John B. Ford going up the Yangtze River.

DOUBTLESS it is necessary just now that United States guns should be most conspicuous in attacks on Chinese, which of course will concentrate Chinese hatred on this country and on American citizens.

WHEN you read that nine out of ten Chinese men, women and children go to bed hungry, worried, poor and miserable every night of their lives, you cannot expect them to be philosophical or patient.

EACH "well-informed" Washington correspondent tells you something you didn't know. One gives you this, another that. "President Coolidge has made up his mind not to run in 1928. He is in favor of the nomination of Herbert Hoover."

YOU can take that for what it is worth. Senator Borah will tell you that President Coolidge will SURELY be nominated again, also that Governor Smith of New York will be nominated by the Democrats.

HOWEVER, nobody knows what President Coolidge will do. He himself may not know. The "well-informed" one suggests that President Coolidge plans to leave office, practice law and accumulate some money for his wife and son. He has been able to make all his life and has been able to pay nothing from his salary as president.

THE suggested nomination of Herbert Hoover, who has shown extraordinary energy and ability in working out national waterways, power plants and other national enterprises, would save millions of Americans. So would the nomination of Secretary Mellon, who has handled national finances in a way that entitles him to the gratitude of all citizens, big and little.

IF the president should decide not to be elected a second time (there is no question of a third time when a man has been elected only once), it is safe to say that the Republican nominee in 1928 would be named Hoover, Mellon or Coolidge.

Governor Smith's friends think he will carry any one of them—President Hoover, Mellon or Coolidge.

MINERS READY TO QUIT PITS IN FOUR STATES

Virtually All Bituminous Mines in Central Competitive Field To Suspend

OHIO IS AFFECTED

Operation To Continue in Several Districts of Buckeye State

Chicago, Mar. 31—All was in readiness today for suspension of soft coal mining at midnight tonight in the central competitive field, embracing western Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana.

Some 150,000 members of the United Mine Workers' Union and virtually all of the bituminous coal mines in the area will be affected by the suspension, which follows the expiration of the Jacksonville wage scale.

The union wants a new contract providing substantially the same basic pay as the Jacksonville agreement—$7.50 a day or a proportionate amount to miners working on a tonnage basis. Cannot Complete, Claim

The operators, claiming they cannot compete under that wage scale with non-union fields in West Virginia and Kentucky, want the miners to accept a reduction.

An attempt was made at the recent Miami conference to draw up a new contract, but the apparently wide gulf separating the aims of operators and miners, resulted in a disagreement.

Since the disagreement John L. Lewis, president of the miners' union, proposed that operators continue to pay the Jacksonville scale pending agreement on a new contract.

The proposal has been generally rejected, according to officials of various operators' organizations, union officials maintain, however, that it has been favorably received in many places.

Last Minute Hope
Rice Miller, president of the Coal Operators' Association of Illinois, declared today there was slight hope for a last-minute agreement as the operators expected the union to enter a conference with the understanding that lower wages would be accepted.

Miller declared today the Illinois operators were not expecting to import strikebreakers.

"We have no intention of breaking up the union," he said.

The early spring and presence of large stocks of coal above ground were factors in support of the belief that the suspension might extend to at least well into the summer.

OHIO MINES TO CLOSE TODAY
New Lexington, Ohio, Mar. 31—Every mine in the Hotchkiss, Conant, Athens and Crooksville fields will cease operation at 4 p. m. today, both operators and union miners agree. Of the 62 mines in operation in this district none has yet announced a separate agreement with the union miners who are to cease work today. There are 247 mines in the four fields but many of them have been closed for some time.

"At Santoy, it is reported the Hotchkiss Creek Coal Co., largest in the Hotchkiss field, will close its general store, while a general reduction in railroad yard crews has been reported by the railroads here."

FOURTEEN MINES WILL CONTINUE
Zanesville, Mar. 31—Fourteen mines in Sub-District No. 8 will continue to operate and pay the former wage scale of $7.50 per day, it was announced here today by Frank J. Bender, secretary of the sub-district. These are estimated, employ between 2,000 and 3,500 workers normally. There are approximately 70 mines in this territory, which includes Perry, Muskingum, Coshocton and Guernsey counties.

OPERATE ON 1917 SCALE
Pomeroy, Mar. 31—Mines in Sub-District No. 2, including Gallia and Meigs counties, will continue to operate without cessation. It was announced here today, as they have been operating on the 1917 scale of $5.40 for an eight-hour day. Meigs County mines employ approximately 3,000 men.

Police are searching for the assailant.

Although Robert weighed only nine pounds at birth, he weighed 30 pounds when six months old. His growth has been steady since that time. He is, to all appearances, a boy of 19. When he entered kindergarten at five, he was wearing clothes for a 13-year-old boy. He wears size 14, men's shoes.

Robert leads his classes in school. He is in the fourth grade. His ambition is to become a movie star.

The court's decision is now expected to appeal to the supreme court. The case is expected to be heard in the supreme court in the fall.

The maximum sentence possible for Sinclair is a year in jail for refusing to answer the questions propounded by the senate's investigating committee several years ago.

CLUB HONORS MEMORY OF LATE DR. GUTMANN
Kiwanians and Eagles Join in Tribute to Former Member at Luncheon

The memory of Dr. L. W. Gutmann, who died recently, was honored by the Marion Kiwanis Club at a memorial service held at the meeting Thursday noon.

The Eagles Lodge, of which Dr. Gutmann was also a member had a share in the service, and a portion of the ritual for the death of this lodge was given. A chair marked by a single rose held in a spray of green, was at Dr. Gutmann's usual place, as the roll of the dead was called. John Abel and Frank Tush conducted the Eagles part of the service.

The tribute to Dr. Gutmann was paid by John H. Clark, who in a brief but fitting address brought back the picture of the dead member, and expressed the sorrow of the club members at his passing.

PERSONAL TAX BLANKS READY FOR MAILING
Listing Day Falls on April 10 This Year, Auditor Thomas Announces

PAPERS DIFFERENT
Taxpayers Asked To Watch for Publication of Auto Schedule

Tax listing day, when all personal property is to be placed on the county tax duplicate, falls on April 10 this year, County Auditor Earl E. Thomas has announced.

There are 12,000 personal property tax blanks ready to place in the mail on April 8, so that they will be delivered throughout the county immediately following the 10th. Tax listing day is always on Sunday, so taxpayers will have their blanks on Monday following and can immediately begin to make their returns.

Blanks Different
The blanks will differ this year from those issued in other years recently, in that the automobile schedule, showing the present rate of depreciation allowed on automobiles, is not given on the blanks. This schedule of depreciation will be announced shortly before tax listing day, and taxpayers will have to watch for the schedule to learn how much their automobile is worth this year.

"One thing I want taxpayers to understand this year," Thomas said today, "is that every automobile, that is in use, must be listed, whether it is worth only $5. If it is in use to run, and the owner expects to get any benefit from it, it must be listed. The law says every automobile must be listed for taxation in order to grant an automobile license to the owner."

Some taxpayers have the idea that because a machine has a low value, and they have nothing else to list, that they are exempt from listing it, as their $100 exemption takes them out of the personal tax paying class. The law requires every machine to be listed.

KELLOGG DENIES REPORT OF VACATION, RETIREMENT
Cabinet Member Not So Emphatic About Rumor of Resignation

Washington, Mar. 31—A report published in a morning newspaper that Secretary of State Kellogg is planning to take a long vacation in California, to be followed by his resignation from the cabinet, was denied today by Kellogg.

The secretary said he was not going to California, but about the recurring report of his early retirement from the cabinet because of ill health he was not so emphatic, although he has consistently denied previous reports of this sort.

Despite the denials, however, it would not surprise Kellogg's colleagues here if he retires by July 1.

BRITISH MAKE DEMANDS FOR NANKING ATTACKS
London, Mar. 31—The British cabinet, affecting the Chinese policy, has drawn up a demand for reparations for the Nanking attacks, it was learned today.

The cabinet also has decided upon measures to force the demands if they are not met immediately.

The demands, it is understood, will be presented to Chiang Kai-Shek and not to Eugene Chen, Nationalist foreign minister at Hankow.

Discussions are going on among the powers with regard to united action being taken to support demands for Nanking reparations.

Attitude Grows Worse
Reports in the foreign office today state that the attitude toward foreigners in Nanking is rapidly becoming more and more hostile and conditions are now so unsafe that foreigners cannot land on the Nanking coast. Looking of the British consulate continues and foreign ships passing Nanking are continually fired on.

The British government, it was stated, semi-officially, is firmly resolved that there shall be no repetition of the Nanking affair, which it regards as "unforgivable and impardonable."

Nanking was the turning point in the Chinese troubles and the tendencies displayed there must be immediately arrested, the cabinet has agreed.

It was stated today that the indignities suffered by women in Nanking were of such a character that Sir Austen Chamberlain was unable to publish a report regarding them in the house of commons yesterday.

SEEK MAN AND WOMAN
New York, Mar. 31—District Attorney Newcombe of Queens County began search today for a man and a woman known only as "Sid" and "Ethel," who were mentioned in a number of letters written by Mrs. Ruth Snyder to her lover, Henry Judt Gray, both of whom are under indictment for the murder of Mrs. Snyder's husband, Albert, art editor of "Motor Boat."

So far as detectives have learned to date no one in the circle in which Gray and Mrs. Snyder traveled bore such names.

Gray, in his cell, is turning more and more to religion and has requested that a clergyman visit him often to give him spiritual consolation.

APPREHENSION IS INCREASED AT SHANGHAI

New Reports of Anti-Foreign Demonstrations Follow Attack on Concession

MARINES ON DUTY
U. S. Guards To Defend Property Within Barricade If Necessary

Shanghai, Mar. 31—While new reports of anti-foreign demonstrations in the provinces come in, there is increased apprehension here today as the result of the mob attacks upon the French concession last night.

Refugees ships playing the Yangtze still are subjected to fire and there are many reports of pillage by the Nationalists. The Cantonese are reported to have entered Chinkiang after its evacuation by foreigners and to have sacked the town. The American and British consuls were reported to have been pursued by hostile crowds who threw stones at them.

The extent of the damage done in Nanking still is undetermined, but it is reported that American property there has been sacked and pillaged.

Investigative Attacks
Investigations were in progress today concerning the mob attacks on the French concession barricades last night, reports having been received that Nationalist soldiers in uniform participated in these attacks.

There is no denying that there is considerable apprehension here regarding the ability of the French to protect their concession and the American and other foreigners resident there. One report has it that Consul Nagler has been recalled to Paris.

United States marines have been placed on duty at the barricades between the French concession and the international settlement and the French authorities have agreed that if serious troubles break out that the American marines may enter to protect American property.

As far as is known officially there are no known marines from the United States on the French barricade last night, but there is an unconfirmed report that several Chinese were killed and the owner of the property on the French side of the Yangtze, which the Nationalists tried to burn, was killed.

This report has been disturbing for it is feared that it may be used by agitators to spur the Chinese on to retaliation.

Would Quell Disorders
One hopeful sign is seen by the foreigners here in a report that General Chiang Kai-Shek has taken strong measures to put down disorders. It is reported that 300 have been ordered executed by Chiang Kai-Shek for participating in disorders in a suburban area.

Twenty thousand Chinese natives of Chekiang province, who were driven from their homes by the recent fighting in that district, taking refuge in Shanghai, have been evacuated to Ningpo. It was explained that the authorities feared trouble if the Chekiangese remained in Shanghai.

Kuo Tai-chi, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and a close friend of Eugene Chen, the Cantonese foreign minister, has assumed the post of commissioner of foreign affairs in Shanghai, succeeding Hoehi Imai.

Hold Mass Meetings
Three mass meetings are being held here daily when Nationalist officers, labor leaders and students address crowds made up of laborers, merchants, soldiers and students.

Labor union representatives are collecting funds—almost by force—to pay the wages of the Cantonese soldiers.

Eighteen hundred Chinese marines have arrived from Fokien, 1,200 being stationed at Kaohsiung and 600 at Tientsin.

Chinese Minister Song of the Cantonese ministry, who arrived here from Hankow is conferring with Chinese leaders regarding the establishment of a provisional government.

Pair Connived with Henry Judd Gray, Alleged Murderer, Police Learn

Syracuse, N. Y., Mar. 31—Admission by Haddon Gray and Henry Platt that they connived with Henry Judd Gray to destroy the blood-stained vest and other clothing brought back after the murder in Syracuse Village, of Albert Snyder, art editor of "Motor Boat," featured the Syracuse investigation of the case this afternoon. This startling evidence was brought out after Gray and Platt had been grilled at police headquarters here by New York and local detectives. Another "mystery witness" was arrested today. His name was not revealed.

Workman, apparently resigned to his fate, declared that he had found consolation in religion, and that he would leave a statement concerning the murder to be published after his death.

CITY COUNCILS AGAINST AGREED RATE, REPORT
Practically All of 34 Affected Municipalities Opposed to Compromise Schedule

CONFERENCE FRIDAY
Second Two-Year Charge Has No Chance of Being Approved, Claim

Attorneys for Marion and 33 other Ohio cities who negotiated a tentative compromise intended to terminate the two-year rate controversy between the 34 cities and the Logan Gas Co., have no assurance that the settlement will be finally approved and consummated.

This situation was clearly evident today, with arrangements all complete for the meeting of the attorneys which will be held at Columbus Friday morning for the purpose of receiving reports disclosing what decision the various city councils have made regarding acceptance of the compromise terms.

According to advance reports, practically all of the councils are firmly opposed to accepting the gas company's proposal in full. It provides for a flat 55-cent rate for the first two years with a minimum charge of $1.10 for the first 2,000 cubic feet of gas and a 90-cent rate for a second two-year period with a minimum of $1 for the first 500 feet.

No Chance
The two-year 90-cent proposal has absolutely no chance of being approved by the cities. This has been indicated by statements from councilmen here and in other cities and also by attorneys who negotiated the compromise for the cities.

The attorneys recommended acceptance of the 55-cent rate for the first two years but do not advocate including the 90-cent schedule for the additional two years. Their views on that feature of the gas company's proposal was expressed here Tuesday night by Grant E. Mauer, Jr., former city solicitor who has represented Marion in the gas rate fight.

No Recommendation
"We are leaving the 90-cent proposal entirely up to the judgment of the councils without any recommendation," Mauer informed local Council members. "There is one point worthy of consideration however: If the gas company is given a 55-cent rate for two years and an agreement is made for the following two years, the company is certain to file a new application when the 55-cent schedule expires. It is up to councils to decide whether the company then is likely to get granted a rate above the 90 cents that it is now willing to accept."

The local council will meet tonight at the office of Mayor Hazen and informally approve or disapprove the settlement. Report of this action will then be wired to Mauer at Columbus so that he may submit it to the attorneys' conference Friday morning.

Although no definite information is at hand, there are rumors that the local council is likely to place its stamp of approval on the proposed settlement terms. It is certain that the 90-cent rate for the second two-year period will be voted down and it is possible that the 55-cent schedule for the first two years will be accepted.

6. R. DALE ARRESTED ON CRIMINAL LIBEL CHARGE

Indiana Editor Must Furnish $3,000 Bond or Go to Jail

Muncie, Ind., Mar. 31—George R. Dale, editor of the weekly Post-Dispatch, was arrested here today on a grand jury indictment charging him with criminally libeling Circuit Judge Clarence V. Deane, who is the rental figure in the impeachment trial before the Indiana senate in Indianapolis. Dale's bond was fixed at $3,000. At noon today he had not yet made it and faced the prospect of going to jail.

The indictment was returned after Judge Deane suppressed the Feb. 17th issue of the Post-Dispatch on the grounds that it libeled him and had summoned a special grand jury to indict Dale.

Dale came here last night from Fort Toney, O., from where he has been editing his newspaper.

ONLY FOUR KILLED IN MINE COAL DUST BLAST
Two Hundred and Ninety-One Workers Escape Death in Unusual Explosion

Threshfield, Pa., Mar. 31—State and federal mine inspectors today began an investigation of the explosion in the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company's mine here, which they termed one of the most unusual on record.

Although 295 miners were at work, only four were killed and four injured. The others escaped through rare entices and air shafts.

A string of 23 mine cars running with down a 2,000-foot incline inside the mine, fore insulation from electric wires and ignited an accumulation of dust, causing the explosion. S. W. Blacketer, superintendent, said.

Injuries Serious
The only official bulletin issued at the Henry Ford Hospital indicated the seriousness of the automobile magazine, published in it, Dr. H. D. McClure, chief of the hospital, revealed that America's first billionaire was splintered and pained blood, both indelible internal injuries and possible rupture of internal organs. "This belief was heightened by the fact that his physicians fixed splints to Ford's chest and back because of the pain he suffered in breathing."

The Studebaker car and its mysterious occupants lay in wait for the automobile king outside his Dearborn laboratory in the debris of last Sunday night. International News Service learned from a source close to the billionaire. The car was parked there and the occupants halted Ford as he drove up to his office building in Dearborn. Ford worked in his office on

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

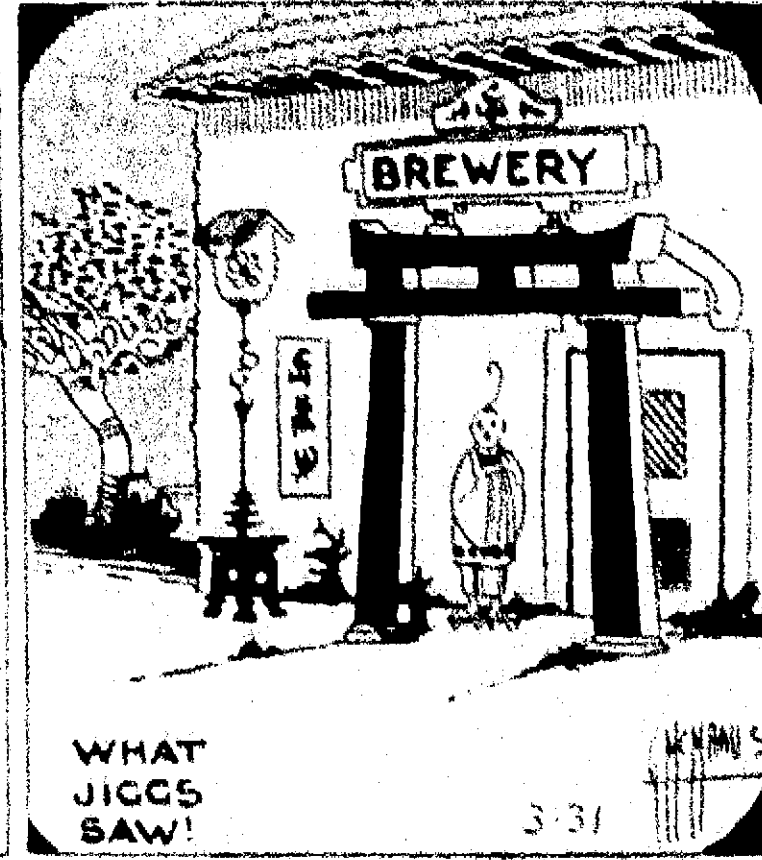

It was Friday, and I will tell you what happened to me. I had to go to the doctor's office to let him look at my eye. I went in the house to get the pair of shoes and Jubilee went to the barn to get the horse. The bunch standing outside for me to look at, and my mother said they couldn't all come in. I was afraid he was going to make me the doctor. He said, "William, tell me what happened to you today." I said, "I said, 'Annabelle Lee, and she said nothing.'"

Annabelle Lee, and she said nothing. I took the cloth off my head and he said, "What happened to you today?" He just had some cuts on his head and he didn't say a word. He just had some cuts on his head and he didn't say a word. He just had some cuts on his head and he didn't say a word.

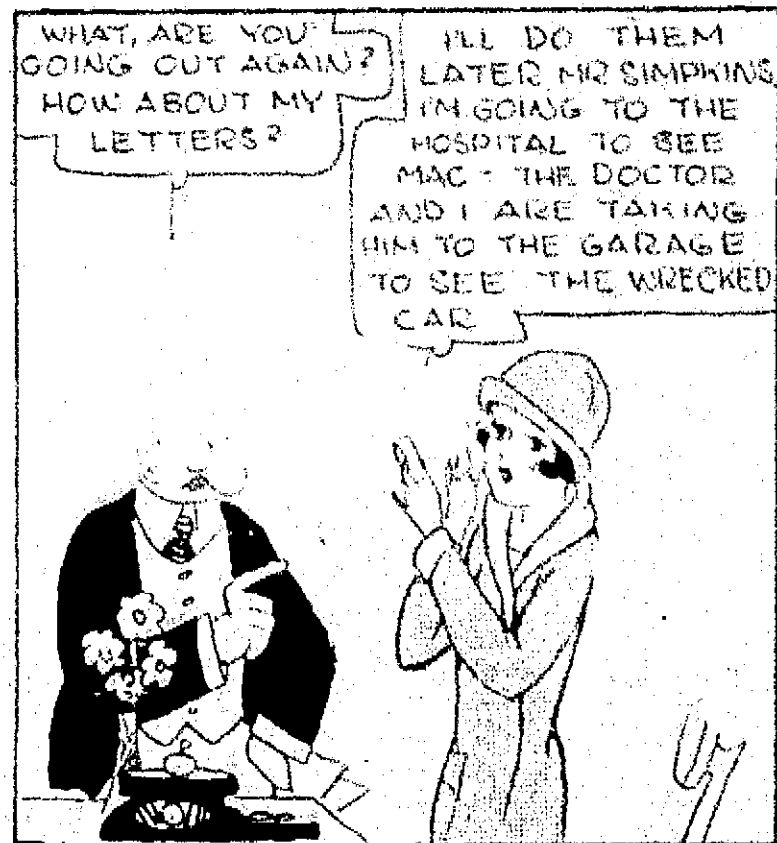

When I told them it is a bullet hole they don't believe me. Then I went out to the barn and reached up and took the milk stool off its hook without looking at it and slammed it down by the door and out on it, and something happened right then. Some one had drove a horse shoe nail up in the wall and I got right up again. The Lost Bag of Tripe was the only one the skunk out so I chased him and then the milk stool at him, but I got and hid under the stink factory.

Uncle Wiggly and His Friends

"Uncle Wiggly! Oh, Uncle Wiggly!" shouted Boppy, the little wooden man, in the bungleup one morning. "Oh, something dreadful has happened!"

"Has Um fallen down stairs?" asked the rabbit gentleman, who, for a time, was living with Boppy. Um and the Wogglejigs in their bungleup home, near the bunny's hollow stump bungleup.

"Oh, no, I didn't fall down stairs," answered Um for herself, as the came bounding up and down to the door of the room where Mr. Longears slept. Boppy and Um had to bounce up and down, for they had no legs on which to walk. "It wouldn't have hurt me even if I had fallen down stairs," went on the cute little wooden woman. "But I didn't!"

"Then what happened?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Boppy is lost!" cried Boppy. "Our dear, little, green Wogglejig boy is lost! Oh, dear me!" and Boppy cried wooden tears which fell with a clatter like hail on the floor.

"Is all of Boppy lost, or only part of him?" asked Mr. Longears. For the Wogglejigs, as you know, had a funny way of lending each other their tails, heads or legs. Boppy might have gone that.

"He is all lost—every bit or our green Wogglejig boy is lost!" sighed Boppy. "Um and I have looked all over for him, but we can't find him."

"Perhaps he has been kept in after school," suggested Mr. Longears.

"No," answered Um. "Boppy left school with Gaze, Dimple and his other sisters and Wumpie. But they said he ran off in the woods, to have an adventure. They waited for him to come out, but he didn't! Boppy is lost!"

"Then I shall go find him!" offered Uncle Wiggly. "I came to visit you, Boppy and Um, to have adventures and help you unscramble the Wogglejigs. Also when they are lost I must help find them. I'll go look at once for Boppy!"

Uncle Wiggly hopped through the woods near the bungleup, looking on every side for Boppy. Scattered through the forest were the other Wogglejig children, Gaze, Mzie, Dazie, Dimple and Wumpie.

"It's like a bedtime game isn't it, Uncle Wiggly?" called Dazie, waving her dark-blue tail. "It's like a game, this hunting for lost Boppy!"

"Sort of," admitted Mr. Longears. "It will be bedtime and dark soon. We must find your green brother before that happens."

After a time the rabbit gentleman was alone in one part of the woods, looking for the last Boppy. The other Wogglejigs had scattered here and there. All of a sudden Mr. Longears saw something green beneath a bush.

"Ha!" he cried. "There is Boppy!"

But it was only a new green leaf growing out to greet the summer, which would soon come. Much disappointed, Uncle Wiggly hopped on and all of a sudden he saw a little ant lady building a bonfire.

"Why are you building the fire, Mrs. Ant?" asked the rabbit.

"Because," she answered, "I am still cold and wet from having tried to cross the brook yesterday in my leaf boat. I lost my ears and would have been swept over the waterfall only a little Wogglejig girl jumped in, pushed my boat to shore and saved me."

"Oh, so you are that ant lady?" cried Uncle Wiggly. "I thought I knew you. Well, Dazie is the name of the little Wogglejig girl who saved you, and I am looking for her lost brother Boppy. Have you seen poor, lost Boppy?"

"No, I think not," answered the ant.

"Ha!" he cried. "There is Boppy!"

lady. She picked up a stick to put on her bonfire and all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggly saw that the stick was pointed green.

"Wait! Hold on! Stop!" cried the rabbit. "That may be part of lost Boppy—a leg or a tail!" Hopping closer to the ant's bonfire Uncle Wiggly saw, indeed, that the stick was Boppy's green tail. "Where did you find this?" asked Mr. Longears of Mrs. Ant.

"Under this bush," she answered, pointing with one leg. And there, curled up and fast asleep, was the lost Boppy. His green tail stuck out and the ant lady had pulled it off to put on her bonfire, not knowing what it was.

"But it's a good thing you stopped me in time, Uncle Wiggly," said Mrs. Ant as she found more wood for her blaze. "I wouldn't want to burn Boppy's tail!" Then with his tail stuck back on him, Boppy was awakened, and hurried to the bungleup with Uncle Wiggly. So all was well.

And if the potato masher doesn't turn the peach pie upside down to find out how the apples got in, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's April Fool.

Freckled Beauty Takes Honors

Miss Helen Nort, 18, the possessor of a constellation of freckles, has just been voted the prettiest girl at Oglethorpe University, Atlanta, Ga. She was selected by the Lords' club, a group of fastidious cheer leaders, full-backs and otherwise envied and exclusive young men, who know their pulchritude. Miss Nort is also one of the most studious girls at the institution, standing at the top of most of her classes.

DRY FORCES TO MOP UP BORDER THIS SUMMER

Largest Staff Ever in Service
Against Liquor To Fight
Rum-Runners

Syracuse, N. Y., Mar. 31.—According to well-informed Federal circles, the United States government will place this summer the largest force of preventative forces along Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River in the history of Volsteadism. New section headquarters are to be established at Oswego, Watertown, Alexandria Bay, Ogdensburg and Massena upstate and

SULPHUR HEALS SKIN ALMOST OVERNIGHT

Broken Out Skin and Itching
Eczema Relieved at Once

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist.—Advt.

in the western section of St. Louis, Missouri, and other points along Lake Erie to the West.

The Oswego division, it became known here, is to be one of the most vital spots in the Federal plans to stop the flow across the border. At this point, it is said, will be stationed fast patrol boats, whose duty will be to head off all big craft bound for quiet coves on the Southern shores of Lake Ontario. These cutters, it is said here, will be equipped as well with small tanks and a machine gun or two to be used in cases of emergency.

"Wide Open" River
If the dry army and officers on shore succeed in mopping up practically all liquor coming in via the border, few bootleggers believe themselves that the business will continue to any great degree. On the other hand, "speak-easies" and make an occasional others wise in the way of the underworld hand to give the rum-runners an upper hand for a moment, realizing that to do so means a "wide open" river and lake in the future.

All along the lake and river front at points of control will be stationed small units of two or three members of the border patrol. In each unit will be two customs agents and one immigration officer, it is said.

Behind this "second line of defense," for as usual the Marinas receive the first call to duty, will come the "mop up" of the State police.

Raiding Skills
Working back among the cities and industrial centers where the smuggled liquor supplies ultimately find their way will be the prohibition enforcement agents whose chief duty is to raid stills, arrange prisoners, secure "bribe" from visit to breweries not officially marked "clean."

Then there is still another force in the gigantic army of United States and State officials lining up against the new "rum row." There are the men who perhaps are least known but whose activities always result in the "big boys" being brought to court. They are the "under cover men," agents who work quietly in civilian clothes armed with blackjacks and high-powered revolvers and plenty of Uncle Sam's expense money. The daring young fellows, mingle in Canada with the brewers themselves and after everything is set the trap that snags a whole shipload at once—thousands of dollars lost to someone "higher up."

Like Mexican War
"This game of battling the liquor lickers this summer ought to be a lot like the Mexican War," a veteran customs agent declared in discussing the coming campaign. "Here is the way I hope it out. The government, under direction of the President or Secretary of the Treasury or General Andrews, or someone, wants to make a real honest to goodness effort at stopping smuggling on all kinds of reinforcements."

Officials and watachers agree on one thing—that the Canadian border will resemble an armed camp from May 1 until snow flies later in the winter.

Itching Piles
Instantly Relieved and soon cured by applying PAIN OINTMENT. It Stops Irritation, Swelling, Itching and is guaranteed to Cure any case of Itching, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. All Druggists have PAIN OINTMENT in tubes with full size attachment at 15c; and in tin box at 50c.

Tolerance Toward Chinese Adopted by U. S. as Policy

Nation Wishes Bulk of Orientals "Good Luck" in Their Aspirations

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31.—Washington seems to me to have a clearer, more sympathetic understanding of the Chinese than any other government has.

It seems to me also to have a better understanding of them than it has of any other nationality.

Things were pretty tense here following native Shanghai's capture by the Cantoneses, with trouble popping all along the "foreign city" limits, still worse trouble in Nanking, and the entire Yangtze valley by the ears.

Officials would have had some excuse if it had lost its head.

Yet what you heard right along, "We must make all due allowance for the Chinese."

OTHER Oriental capitals haven't been so forbearing.

Their basic thought has been that the Chinese disturbance was an internal nuisance to them, and that the best scheme for the "powers" was to club together and go over and lick both sides, in order to stop it.

That's what they undoubtedly would have done, only they needed America's help and they couldn't get it.

WASHINGTON'S reasoning, in substance, has been like this:

China's engaged in a terrific civil struggle. Innocent bystanders on the sidelines of such a fight are liable to be sidetracked by it. They ought, by good rights, to get out of the way.

Of course even an impudent innocent bystander can't be left to his fate. His country's got to rescue him, even at the cost of chopping, momentarily, into the scrap.

But so far as the bulk of the Chinese are concerned, in their nationalistic aspirations, the United States wishes them luck.

RUDYARD KIPPLING, with his "East is East and West is West, and never the twain shall meet," undertook to give the impression that Oriental and Occidental mental processes are absolutely irreconcilable.

This is all "bunk."

What Rudyard, an Occidental imperialist to the backbone, never could understand was why the East objects to being gobbled up by the West.

It isn't so much of a mystery to Washington.

WASHINGTON diplomacy shouldn't feel too cocky, nevertheless, over its superiority to other Occidental diplomacy in the matter of its understanding of the Chinese.

It isn't so tolerant, for instance, toward Latin American disturbances as it is toward Chinese disturbances.

A little of our eastern hemispherical psychology, applied in the western hemisphere, would make us more friends in the latter.

WASHINGTON officials are free to admit that their experience of today can't compare with what their predecessors must have gone through 27 years ago, when the Boxers were rampant.

That was an out-and-out anti-foreign affair. The leaders were wild-eyed fanatics, with the murder of white men and women in their hearts. While they may have known no better, it made them none the less unpleasant customers to deal with.

The commanders in the present war are enlightened men, who are given full credit for doing their best to prevent anti-foreign excesses.

In the early 1900's, too, with the telegraph down, nobody knew for weeks what was happening. It's of record that the suspense was killing. Now communication can't be seriously interrupted, thanks to the radio.

Associated with the same mysterious pain for eight or nine years, familiarity breeds contempt.

 Daily Prayer: "Envy always pursues the fortunate and meritorious."

We knew somebody would have to pay for the perfect winter we have enjoyed. Vermont dealers announce a failure of the ice crop.

Senator J. Thomas Hefflin says the South gave prohibition to the country. Huh! That's not the gift which causes us to be resentful toward the South, particularly Alabama.

Having ascertained that it cost the Anti-Saloon league $13,000,000 to keep the country dry for the past six years, it would be interesting to know what it has cost the "personal liberty" crowd to make it wet.

It has been said that there is never any accounting for tastes, and this is made evident by the size of the audience every time an off-color case comes up in court.

What a pity that the new victory gas rates will not go into effect tomorrow coincident with the inauguration of the coal strike so we would never feel it.

We assume that Mr. Norman Thomas and his Civil Liberties union are all worked up over the outrageous manner in which the foreigners in Shanghai are doing their utmost to prevent the gentle Chinese mobs from killing them.

Possibly the reason why foreigners didn't get out of China when they saw the revolution begin to brew, is that it started something like seventy-five to 100 years ago and has been rather busy ever since.

In this old life of ours we are inclined to worry a lot about possibilities that never come to pass. In this connection, think of the columns of editorial and news matter wasted over the "fact" that government pensioners could not be paid till late next June, which, it turns out, isn't a fact.

More About the Gas Rates.

Star readers were regaled with a long array of figures on the gas rate situation in our issue of Wednesday. Some of them were pertinent and illuminating. Some could hardly be called that. They were the figures presented to members of council the night before in explanation of the compromise rates arrived at by and between the representatives of thirty-four Ohio cities and villages, one of the cities being Marion, and officials of the Logan Gas company, with which company the thirty-four municipalities have been in contention over rates for something like two years. The proposed compromise, which must be approved by the councils of the thirty-four municipalities and the Ohio public utilities commission before it becomes effective, provides for a flat rate of fifty-five cents for the next two years and a flat rate of sixty cents a thousand for two years thereafter, with a minimum rate of $1.10 a month the first two years and a minimum rate of $1.20 for the third and fourth years. The attorneys of the various municipalities are said to be recommending the approval of the fifty-five-cent rate for the first two-year period, but not the sixty-cent rate for the second two-year period.

Whether or not this course will be acceptable to the Logan people is not known. As they made the offer of the compromise as a whole, it may be assumed that they will be lukewarm to the plan of having it split up as suggested by the legal representatives of the municipalities. This, at least, would be the view one would naturally take.

There is no question, but what the fifty-five-cent rate is a very fair one, and we are frank to say that we believe it would be the course of wisdom, all the circumstances considered, to accept the compromise rates as a whole. We have not questioned the fairness of the rates, nor is it our present plan to do so. Nor do we gainsay the statement that certain advantageous arrangements go with the compromise. But we do hold that, so far as the average consumer of gas is concerned, no great victory has been gained, as has been held out, as a result of either the contention or the compromise.

Figures are offered to show how much better off the citizens of the thirty-four municipalities will be should the fifty-five-cent flat rate for the first two-year period provided for by the compromise agreement prevail than are the consumers in the thirty-eight municipalities which refused to continue the fight some time ago. We are told that should the fifty-five-cent rate prevail it would mean a saving of four dollars a year to every gas consumer in Marion, or a saving by the 7,700 consumers in the city of $30,800 a year, compared to what must be paid by the consumers of the thirty-eight municipalities which withdrew from the fight. We feel that it is hardly fair to use for comparison the lower rate of one set of consumers against the higher rate of another to reach these figures, and that any such comparison at all is pertinent only to indicate that the rates offered Marion consumers are reasonable.

Almost anything may be demonstrated by figures. If a New Yorker and his wife should go to some high-class hotel in that city and engage a double room with bath it would probably cost him $12 a day, or $4,380 a year. A Marion man and his wife could probably get a better room with bath and as good service for four dollars a day at Hotel Marion and save over the New Yorker $2,920 annually, but what would it get him? And on the same principle 7,700 Marion men and their wives could theoretically save $22,151,000 a year, but they wouldn't realize on it any more than 7,700 Marion gas consumers by paying $30,800 less than those of some other city.

But there were some very pertinent figures in the statement, among them being the showings that there were 7,700 gas consumers in Marion and that the average gas consumption here was 55,000 feet annually, or about 7,000 feet a month, just as we have contended.

Under the proposed compromise rates, 7,000 feet of gas would cost $2.35 a month or $22.40 for the first two years and $4.20 a month or $10.08 for the second two years, or a total of $132.20 for the four-year period. Under the present rates 7,000 feet of gas cost $3.97 a month, or $19.95 for four years. Thus the compromise rate is the average consumer would be $2.61 more than the present rate to the consumer of 7,000 feet of gas, which is said to be the average monthly consumption.

It will be recalled that the controversy between the city of Marion and the Logan people started when the Logan people sought to enforce a service charge of seventy-five cents monthly. At that time the city consumers were paying forty-five cents a thousand for the first 5,000 feet, fifty cents for the next 5,000, fifty-five cents for the third 5,000 and sixty cents a thousand for all above 15,000 feet. Council rejected the service charge, and the Logan people got around the situation by "charging" ninety-five cents, without any discount, for the first 500 feet. Then the matter was taken up to the public utilities commission.

Now what would the average consumer, the consumer who uses on an average 7,000 feet of gas monthly, have had to pay had council acceded to the proposed seventy-five cent service charge?

The first 5,000 feet at forty-five cents a thousand would have cost him $2.25. The next 2,000 feet at fifty cents a thousand would have cost him a dollar. This would be $3.25 for gas, and the service charge of seventy-five cents would make the cost of his gas to him four dollars a month, or $48 a year, or $192 for four years.

Under the proposed compromise rates, this same consumer of 7,000 feet will have to pay $3.85 monthly for the first two years, or $92.40, and for the second two-year period he must pay $4.20 a month or $100.80, the total being $193.20, which is just $1.20 more than he would have paid under the old rates for four years with the monthly service charge added. In other words, the average gas consumer would be just thirty cents a year better off had the service charge been agreed to than he will be under the compromise rates—which gives us an idea of how closely the experts of the Logan Gas company can figure out a rate to get what they want out of it.

If the council for the various municipalities feel that they deserve credit for securing concessions regarding extensions and service under the compromise, we would be the last to question them, but we can not feel that there was any occasion for talk of a great victory for the average gas consumer in the matter of rates, and we have so stated, and we yet feel, as we long have felt, that differences between municipalities and public utilities can be far better ironed out in conference and the interests of the public can thus be far better served than they can before the public utilities commission or in the courts.

The bob-haired girls leading the Chinese mobs were the pupils of our missionaries, and many of the young leaders who have been passive while Americans were slaughtered were students in our colleges over here. The more you give, the harder you get it in the neck.

Send Them There.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

American friends of the Russian and Cantonese governments voluntarily should elect to go at once to those distinctive havens of security and brotherly love, or should be officially resisted by this outworn and obsolete government to join the Bolshevik and Chinese murderers in their work of extending their proclaimed world revolution.

It should be now the part of Borah to warn the British to get out of India and Egypt, Franco and Italy to relinquish their colonial possessions, the Dutch to retire from Java, or take the consequences—as he recently "warned" Americans to get out of China.

It should be also a good time for the de-moralized preachers of America to get to the assistance of their outraged and assaulted missionary brethren, who are seeing the work of eighty years of Christian ministry erased by the blood of slaughtered martyrs. It should be time for the memberships of certain American women's clubs to pack kits and board ship for Russia, where women are a practical chattel, or to China, where a white woman today is compelled to flee the clenching claws of yellow brute, and who may account herself lucky if she be mercifully slain before she becomes the possession of a Mongol master.

Prayers, tracts, pronouncements, even money and supplies, can do little for the beleaguered whites in China. Borah thinks God for the Cantonese victory, but America thanks God that it still has a navy able to assist in shooting the fear of the Divinity and of the white manhood of the world into the hearts of Slav and Mongol assassins of life and liberty.

Had the congress listened to these prayers for peace and disarmament through the past several years, there would be more white men and women and little children dead in China this morning. As matters stand, the situation is bad enough. But with the wars of Britain and America allied in effort to rescue and protect white refugees fleeing the wrath of a revolution for the success of which a United States senator has lifted his heart to heaven on the wings of glad thanksgiving, there remains hope that the yellow brothers of prominent American pacifists will be checked in their onset of murder, rapine, loot and license—checked and held. We may well thank God that America still has an efficient navy and pray that the country may be permitted to love and hold it in ample strength.

In the meantime it should be the wish and prayer of every loyal American heart that all pacifists in America, who are grateful for the triumph of red-yellow revolution in China, promptly should be assisted to a closer personal association with the throat-cutting friends across the seas. The peace preachers might be able to calm them with sermons on brotherly love, and telegrams of understanding, sympathy and encouragement from members of the United States senate should serve to inspire them to thank their three thousand gods for friends so discerning, courageous and unflinching.

Nature Aids All Sufferers.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Most of our ailments are so easily located that no special skill is needed to decide where the seat of trouble really lies. Such disturbances are dealt with without a great deal of trouble. Unfortunately, however, there are disease-producing and strength-sapping causes which are not readily found. You feel weak and miserable, you have no energy and spirit for your ordinary duties, your ankles and eyelids are puffy, your head aches, your tongue is furred and you are just a "wreck." The symptoms make you suspect that the kidneys are out of order. But it may be that every test fails to reveal any sign of kidney trouble.

As a matter of fact, there are sufferers from ill health who go on in their misery in spite of the diligent efforts of the best trained physicians. The cause of the disease may be so elusive as to escape discovery.

What is to be done in such a case? Is it hopeless and must the victim settle down to die? By no means. Nature is too kind and too resourceful to be mastered by an obscure disease. Give her half a chance and Nature will find a means of relief.

Of course, you have not exhausted your efforts to find the cause until a certain formula has been followed. You must submit to a series of systematic and thorough examinations to locate it.

Usually the underlying cause of many obscure ailments may be found in one of the following organs: teeth, tonsils, nasal cavities, running ear, stomach or intestines, liver, kidneys, generative organs, bladder, or it may come from some form of food poisoning.

You can help your doctor a lot by careful study of your symptoms and a recital of exactly how you feel. But before he can be sure, it may be necessary to have X-ray pictures taken and various chemical and physical tests made, to run down the exact seat of the trouble.

Should every effort to locate the cause fail, then you must cast yourself on the tender mercy of Mother Nature. It is surprising what prolonged sun baths, gentle exercise, simple food, abundance of sleep, agreeable surroundings and human interest will do to overcome a rundown system. Just as soon as you grow strong and your skin becomes bronzed, you will take on weight and energy. It won't be long before you are almost as good as ever.

Vagrant Verse.

THE AIR MAIL.

We have flouted the dragon of distance
 And broken the shackles of space.
 We have challenged the crime of the plunderer,
 Time.
 And buried his defeat in his face.
 We have eluded the clouds of the dawn
 And startled the wondering moon
 With the arrow speed of our cavalry's breed—
 The foals of a driven typhoon.
 We have skirted the storm chieftain's ambush
 And hounded his volleys of sleet.
 We have hurled the peaks where he razes and shrieks
 From raw rim to rocky retreat.
 Alone—and yet ever attended—
 We travel through peril and stress.
 For we know as we ride that we have at our side
 The shades of the Pony Express.

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. How does the length of hair compare in the case of men and women? M. R. H.

A. In the two extremes among the different races of man the difference of length in man and woman is scarcely noticeable. In some tank-haired races, men's tresses are as long as women's, for instance the Chinese pigtail, and the hair of Redskins which grows to the length sometimes of upward of nine feet. In the grizzly-haired peoples, men and women have equally short growths. It is chiefly in the wavy types of people that the difference in the sexes is marked. Among Europeans men's hair is rarely longer than six inches, while women's hair is usually between twenty-five and thirty inches and in some cases has been known to reach six feet or more.

Q. How does liquid air look? E. C. E.

A. Liquid air is a transparent liquid and intensely cold liquid, slightly blue in color and of about the same density as water. It is prepared by subjecting air to great pressure and then cooling it by its own expansion to a temperature below the boiling point of its constituents—nitrogen, 194 degrees C.; oxygen, 183 degrees C.

Q. What was the game known as Barley Break? N. G.

A. Barley Break, a game once common in England, was played by three couples of young people, the pairing being determined by lot. A piece of ground was divided into three sections, the central being called "Hell." This was assigned to one of the couples. The couples who occupied the other places then approached

Twenty-five thousand years ago a young man lived in a cave in France. Today his skeleton can be seen in the Field Museum in Chicago. It is the only complete skeleton of a prehistoric man ever acquired by an American museum. An ivory spearhead was found with the bones. The spear probably caused the young man's death.

Men fought each other in those days and they do yet. They were swayed by their passions and instincts, lost their tempers, didn't stop to think. And men are like that now. The fight instinct calls upon man for his greatest adjustment. His unhappiness may be measured in the degree in which he fails to make that adjustment.

Hundreds of dead birds fell from the sky near a South Dakota town the other day. The birds, migrating from a warmer climate, flew into a snowstorm. They were taken with bronchial trouble and died by hundreds. So said the local naturalists and they were probably right. Nature is not concerned with anything but the working out of her own indexable laws. If you can't make the adjustments to natural law, you die.

A thoughtful woman said to the writer yesterday that the day of women's clubs, as they are now, is coming to an end. She thinks that in the future clubs for community and cultural purposes will be for both men and women. And why not? Women's clubs have idealistic purposes. Are not men idealists, too? Men, of course, are less practical than women. The combination might make a capable community organization.

A Scotchman comes over here and got into a lot of American habits. He found that some of them was a little expensive, and was a whole lot troubled about it. He worried his folks a good deal about the cost of riding back and forth from his work, in New York, on a train where the fare was about two dimes each way. One day his here Scotchman came home and told his wife that everything was all right. "I'm savin' money now by ridin' the cars," he says.

"How can ya talk that?" she says. "You canna save money payin' fares!"

"Indeed! I quit smokin' cigars. An' now I rid: the smoker, right behind a moon that smokes two-bit cigars. I draw in a dollar's worth of good smoke every day, and it all costs only forty cents a box, besides that I have the ride. 'Tis a great country!"—Copyright, 1927.

Q. What protection does a United States patent and a British patent give? W. J. B.

A. Protection under a United States patent extends throughout continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Isles, Guam, and the Canal zone, and upon compliance with certain regulations to Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands. Protection under a British patent extends only throughout the United Kingdom and the Isle of Man. British colonies and dependencies respectively have their own patent systems. Practically every civilized country has such a system, excepting China; in the case of the latter, however, provision exists for the registration of patents granted in other countries.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, March 31.—Manhattan cynical community it is, young men reluctant to appear in public with elderly women. They shrink from Broadway's vulgar, salaried chaperone. The idea has been over-exploited in several plays. Yet there are more "very bawdy" ordinary mortal imagines. Matrons neglected by husbands or surfeited with aged ennui, drift nightly in large cafes, night clubs and theaters to youthful collar ad companions.

There are many good looking young men who have given up fine jobs for a moneyed life. The theme was gloriously played called "New York Exchange," idea, of course, being that Manhattan exchanges vibrant juvenility for gold.

They have left drab boarding-house apartments and a subway to luxurious leisure. They receive such as pearl shirt sets, playing watches and cigar cases and actual jewelry. But rarely cash.

That is the fly in the ointment: for known in Manhattan as "a kept" or "a kept" distinguished from the gigolo who lives off of dancing purposes to any man will pay the price. The "kept" must turn his attention upon only one.

These attachments are not as sordid as often appear. There is rarely anything sex. It merely represents the genuine lonely women reaching out in the aftermath of a last final companionship youth. And for this, tragically, they must.

There is pathos in watching them where they are. It is a picture of a solid manhood attempting desperately to fight boredom and of disillusioned women search for happiness and meaning. And to New Yorkers it is listed under the head of "Amusements."

It was a fad some time ago for ladies to select narrow gold bracelets—the desired number being thirty-six. The other evening a young blonde appeared in a cafe with her arm entirely hidden with them. "Just the look of a boy friend—full of gin," she explained. And added: "His papa sent him to Yale yesterday."

There is a florist whose shop has a speck on either side and he does about the biggest business in town. There might be idea there for a sick jewelry store.

"Ten Nights in a Bar-Room" recently produced on the East Side, drew chiefly tourists who reached a theater-going age after having passed out. They viewed it as a sort of historical curiosity.

On Fifth avenue there is a large corporal which furnishes sky line ad writing to clients. Several brief puffs of evenness letters across the heavens cost about $500. It drifts off into space in very few minutes. There, I am told, only two skyline ad writers America. The hazards are great, for as from carrying high powered and dangerous chemicals to produce the smoke, the ad writing planes are so small the operator has room for a parachute. If anything goes wrong, it is the end. The letters are written backwards, as writing looks in a mirror. It is a job that calls for steady nerves and real courage.

A Russian cafe creates atmosphere in its fashion. Patrons receive whispered information from this employee and that of the waitresses is a real princess. When place fills, an important group of aristocratic looking Russians arrive. When they see princesses, the men curl their lips and ladies drop almost to their knees with courtesy. It is a cleverly staged stunt brings the crowds. Most of the Russian nobility I have met have a custom of prying their business cards before departing. Copyright, 1927.

Romance on Ship

Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt, the former Gloria Morgan, has admitted to her friends that she is engaged to Prince Godfrey Hohenlohe-Laugenbourg, 39, nephew of Queen Maria of Roumania, according to a Paris cable. The couple met aboard the "Lexithan" when Queen Marie embarked for her American tour.

WOMEN BETTER ABLE TO FIGHT DISEASE, CLAIM

And, They Live Longer Than Men, Says Indianapolis Health Officer

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 31.—Women live longer than men and are better able to fight disease, according to Dr. Herman G. Morgan, city health officer of Indianapolis.

Health statistics also reveal that married women remain in this world longer than the bachelor girls and it isn't because it seems longer to them, Dr. Morgan said.

Then Dr. Morgan proceeded to prove by figures during the month of January his contention. These statistics reveal that the average age of death for women during that month was 68.3 years, while the men's average was 57.8 years.

"I suppose this back to nature argument is right," said Dr. Morgan. "If a man came out in the winter with practically nothing on his neck or extremities but silk stockings, he would be in bed with pneumonia the next day. But the records indicate that the women can get by with it. There seems to be only one conclusion to draw from the facts—the man is now the weaker sex."

WOMAN AT 87 STARTS

ALONE ON WORLD TRIP

Attica, N. Y., Mar. 31.—Age has failed to daunt the spirit of Mrs. Amelia Chesbro, who has started a trip to Europe and the Holy Land without escort or companion at the age of 87.

With no more haste or excitement than leaving for a day's shopping trip, Mrs. Chesbro took her train and said goodbye to friends for 60 days. She is a profound student of the Bible and will realize a lifetime wish to see the land her researches have told her so much about.

Be careful to indulge only in those reminiscences that people like to hear. You may be sure, too, that you are more interested than they are.

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunate who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs . . . then finally decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S. S. S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it where a tonic is indicated.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—Adv.

Recipes for New and Novel Dishes; Household Ideas and Suggestions

Eggs are cheap and fresh these spring days so why not use them for lunch or supper? Poached in tomatoes they are a different dish from the ordinary poached eggs—plenty good enough for company. It is always well to include a fresh fruit or green in any spring menu.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Gingerbread—Two eggs, one cup molasses, one-half cup sugar, one cup butter, one teaspoon soda, one-half cup butter, two teaspoons ginger, two and one-half cups sifted flour. Bake slowly. You may use a whole cup of sugar in this recipe instead of the one-half cup if you want it to be more like cake and use one teaspoon of cinnamon and one of ginger, instead of two of ginger.

Eggs Poached in Tomatoes—Put into a frying pan one tablespoon of butter, one tablespoon of flour; heat until frothy; stir into it one and one-half teaspoons of tomato and then strain into the frying pan a dash of cayenne pepper and salt to taste; cook until creamy, and drop in eggs, baste often and when whites are set remove and put each egg on a slice of buttered toast and pour sauce around them.

It is evidently anticipated that Eve's "permanent wave" will be a permanent feature of her "crowning glory." For inventors have been busy designing "waving" apparatus. One new device dispenses with electrical heat. The hair on my lady's head is divided into squares, and the hair in each square is wound round a special curler. The curlers are inserted into heaters, made hot by steam generated by a small spool within them. This most steam heat is quite harmless, and the resultant "wave" most alluring.

Gloria Should Forget Man,
Do Good, Advice of Woman

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

THE letter signed "Gloria" printed in this column some time ago seems to have created a good deal of interest. Both men and women have written to tell what they think she should do. You remember "Gloria" was in love with a man who was separated from his wife but whom the latter would not divorce. Her question was, should she go away with him or give him up. I did not understand from Gloria's letter that she was the cause of the separation.

Recently I printed part of a letter from a man who thought he should go away with her lover, ignoring conventions. He was not a young man, either. Following is one from a woman who advises her to do just the opposite.

Both are sincere opinions from people who think deeply.

"DEAR Mrs. Lee: My opinion of 'Gloria's' letter is as follows: Perhaps if this young woman would put herself in the place of the wronged wife, she would realize something else but her own selfishness. She does not mean that she can't give him up, she means she won't give him up. She says they are guilty of no wrong. I know she is guilty of the greatest wrong—that of trying to break up anything as sacred as a home. I think the young woman in this case is the real temptress when she suggests throwing all conventions to the winds and going away to live as man and wife. She surely can't realize what that means. She also says his wife does not believe in divorce. A modern wife who keeps her head, often refuses to surrender her place to suit a rival who would usurp it. She does not hand over to a trespasser her home and her name, as if they were of no account.

"And a real man surely can't ever respect a woman that is willing to throw herself away like that. He is treating his wife this way, how will he treat this young woman, without the marriage ties, when the first passion of their love wears off, which it most surely will. She will be cast aside and he will return to his wife and the only way that is, if the wife is willing to take him back. For a man of that kind there is always someone else.

ANOTHER GLORIA

ANOTHER lonely person (a young woman) writes in to ask how she should keep from being homesick in a strange place where she has just taken a position and knows no one. She knows she will make friends in time but wants to keep happy until she gets acquainted.

Here is your chance to cultivate yourself and learn to be independent of others for your happiness. You can read, you can take long walks and get acquainted with your new surroundings and get to really know the town and the character of the people. If there is an art museum, interesting shops, etc., you can explore them. You can cultivate a taste for attending shows and where you can get home safely in good time. You can also cultivate any talent you may happen to have and when you make friends—as you shortly will—you will be a more interesting person. No one in the world is more miserable than the person who is dependent on others for his entertainment.

What Has Gone Before

The home of PROF and MRS. ELWELL, in Camden, N. J., one night in October of 1918, was a scene of confusion. MARTHA DALTON, a young woman who had been traveling, was on the train on which she was traveling. He has a son, aged 5. Late that night she was born to the woman, without revealing her name.

The Elwells adopt the girl, who then moves forward 18 years. The twins now growing to womanhood, have been named MARGARET and ELIZABETH, and nicknamed RUSTY and BETTY.

When enters the World War, the Elwells enlist. Two nights later he goes away he discovers that the twins loves him. But he is in love with her. He tells her which one it is, as he goes to her both girls equal. But he does not come back. Two days later Jim Elwell comes for training camp.

New Begin the Story

CHAPTER XII

More did the merry song of youth. When after Jim had gone away, Rusty was Betty's sharp voice heard. No longer were laughing voices heard. Rusty was laughing and down and down. The free and careless spirit of other days was gone from the little home where sadness had been a thing unknown.

Prof and Mollie, badly as they felt, managed to keep up a brave front. But the girls just couldn't seem to become reconciled to their loneliness. Their big pal, Jim, who never had been gone, and their young hearts were desolate.

But they learned to stand it; the Elwells, as millions of others throughout the land learned during the sixteen months that followed.

And many of them who didn't learn then had learned since and are standing it and will keep on standing it for many years to come.

The cards that were drawn by Jim Elwell in the big game to war assigned him first to a training camp not far from Indianapolis. There they flocked, young men from everywhere, volunteers, luck privates and candidates for officers' commissions.

There Jim learned to guard such things as leather, police, guard duty and setting up exercises. There he learned to leap to his feet at sight of a uniform with gleaming metal on its shoulders.

There he learned that brigadiers were almost as insistent on being saluted as second lieutenants and lieutenants with awe to the strange and bloodcurdling vocabularies of veteran top sergeants.

There, too, he learned in time to overcome the feeling of nausea and reticulation that accompanied bayonet practice, when young men were transformed, some of them into demons that stabbed and tore at the dummies with strange and fearsome looks in their eyes.

He learned how to pick out the vital spots on the dummies, learned to twist and tear with his bayonet, learned from some of the veteran instructors that the best way to disengage your rifle when it had transfixed an enemy was to pull the trigger.

In short, he learned soldiering—modern soldiering. He experienced the agonies of close-order drill beneath a shrilling eun, executed squads right and squads left, learned to call them "squads east" and "squads west," rolled with a shovel digging dirt and came in time to place a high value on a cigarette and on the rest periods that came so infrequently.

The uniforms that were handed to them when they first arrived in camp were sight to behold. They bulged where they should have fitted tightly; they gripped snugly where they should have bulged; the hastily distributed shoes were misfits and produced blisters and kindred torments.

His second day in camp Jim and his squad mates took pictures of one another and sent them home.

Prof Elwell wrote back, "I didn't raise my boy to be this kind of a soldier," and asked Jim if he didn't think the commandant would listen to a proposition involving the hiring of a dressmaker. Mollie, he said, would volunteer.

A week later, Jim, after having persuaded the quartermaster's department to exchange a few garments, was re-photographed, and this time the resultant picture, after having been sent home, was pronounced O. K. by the family council.

"We think," wrote the twins, "that you look perfectly adorable."

Jim's companions in camp were a variegated lot. Farm boys, college graduates, products of the slums of the big cities, youths from small towns like Jim's home town, married men, single men—all kinds.

Jim accepted them all alike. He made no special strong friendships, but was a good fellow to many and so regarded many others. One youth, Fred Simmons, from Chicago and the son of a wealthy soap manufacturer, he liked because he always grinned when he lost at cards. Simmons had tried to get in the air service but had been rejected on some technicality concerning an eye test. Failing this, he had gone to the first recruiting office where almost as insistent on being

Dick Canfield, up in Long Island, had learned to fly, he wrote, and was about to sail for France. "They tell me," he said in his letter, "that we haven't any planes over there, but it's all right with me. Now that I'm in this thing I want to get overseas and see it through."

He had, he wrote, received a knitted helmet from Rusty and Betty, and a batch of khaki silk handkerchiefs. "Believe me," he went on, "they're some pals. Have you changed your mind yet?"

Jim read this letter, or parts of it. Simmons, who listened curiously to the bit about flying.

He swore softly. "Why in hell are they so damned particular over here? Officers tell me there's nothing the matter with my vision. I had twenty-two in one eye and twenty-fifths in another. Better than normal. But they said I had five degrees of astigmatism or some such thing, which, when translated from the Latin or Greek, or whatever it is, means, I suppose, that I have a tendency to be cockeyed at long range."

"Over in France they take anybody. Look at this fellow Gurney. He was a consumptive, I'm told, and look what he did—the greatest ace in the war."

The army, Jim agreed, was a peculiar institution. "Many a guy who wants to go can't, on account of flat feet or something, and many a fellow who'd be perfectly content to let the other guy do the scragging, is drafted and turned into a crawlingman because his father raised mules."

"You said it," corroborated an under-sized soldier who chose that moment to flop down on Jim's bunk. "Look at me. I was working behind a quick lunch counter in Cleveland when I got the urge to sign on the dotted line. You'd think they'd make a mess sergeant out of me, a man who's cooked up as many short orders as I have. But I ain't even had a taste of K. P."

"You can do my trick for me tomorrow, Burns," said Simmons quickly. "No, thanks. I ain't askin' for it. I'm merely offering evidence to prove that the damn army's unscientific. Gimme a cigarette!"

It seemed, Burns went on, that over in C. Company the boys were out of luck. "The commandant's officer over there learned the boys had a big crap game. Somebody told, some dog robber. The old boy hauled in half a dozen of the fellows an' asked them to spill the beans. Even asked each one to tell how much he'd lost and won. An' when he added up the figures an' found that the accounts didn't balance, he ordered the whole barracks put under arrest. Seems these six or seven fellows he hauled in took all the blame an' they weren't the only ones in the game. He knows they're holdin' out, but they won't tell on the others."

"I'm sorry for 'em. They're gonna put the whole gang of 'em on fatigue. The C. O. musta had a bad night or something. He's got a disposition like an ingrown toenail."

Jim offered his sympathy. "Such," he observed, "are the fortunes of war."

"Yeah," agreed Burns. "Who's got the dice? I've got twenty bucks that's burnin' a hole in my pocket."

It could burn said Simmons. He wasn't anxious to share C. Company's tough luck.

"Wait'll we get to France," Burns said, feelingly. "I guess they won't be so particular over there. I wonder how in the hell long we have to stay in this place, anyway. Why don't somebody inform the War Department that the war's over in Europe and not in Indiana?"

"When we do get over there," Simmons remarked, "we'll probably be doing K. P. and setting up exercises behind the lines. That's—"

A loud voice rang out through the barracks. "Private Elwell!"

"Front and center!" Jim came a-running.

"You're wanted at headquarters," the orderly told him. He had a sheet of paper in his hands. "Stay right there," he ordered, "until I see where these other dudes are. Private Garnett! Private Kelly! Corporal Smith!" He went on down the short list.

"All of you birds are wanted at headquarters, pronto."

"How come?" someone asked.

The orderly grinned. "I ain't supposed to know nuthin'. I gotta round up a lot more yet. If you ask me, I think you're gettin' travel orders."

Corporal Smith took command of the

Paris Creations

BY MME. LISBETH

Every season Paris attempts to put the larger hats "over," but with few exceptions the American woman clings to the small, close-fitting kind. The large hats are picturesque and becoming, but not practical in these days.

These three models from the French capital show that Paris hats are still picturesque—but small. The one thing they have in common is the line of trimming across the crown from side to side. They differ in the medium of expression, however. The model at the top has a stiff "halo" of satin, the one in the center an apparently careless decoration of flowers and ribbon, and the third a more studied arrangement which may be composed of either tiny flowers in a garland or a fold of material. Both are used. Little or no brim seems to be the order of the day.

Little detail and marched them over in military fashion to headquarters. And there, in due process of time, Jim Elwell found himself standing stiffly at attention before a second lieutenant, who looked up from his desk at Jim's words. "Private Elwell reporting sir," and asked, "Private James Elwell?"

"Yes, sir."

"Get ready to leave in three hours," "Yes, sir," Jim saluted.

The lieutenant surveyed Jim's stalwart figure and allowed himself a smile. "You're lucky."

"Yes, sir."

"Yes, you're lucky. I wouldn't be surprised if you found yourself on a transport before long. As for me I suppose I'll fight this damn war in Indiana."

Usually the fruit is served in its own shell, but in case of oranges the juice alone is sometimes served. Grapefruit may likewise be served in the shells or in a fruit cup as below. Slow Poison

WITH a look at me which gathered into itself all the enmity and jealousy which had lain between us for years, Edith Fairfax hurried out of Dicky's office, and in another minute he and I facing each other with tense savagery, heard the outer door slam and knew that we were alone on the floor.

"Now," I exclaimed, catching my breath with the realization that I was to hear the terrible thing which Dicky believed of me, and which had changed his words and actions to those of an apparently insane person.

"Horrible!" Dicky echoed the word in noisy mockery. "You're all ready to play the injured innocence role, aren't you? But it won't do. I'm going to tell you this in words of one syllable or, thereabouts, and I don't think you'll have the gall to utter a single word when I'm through."

He drew a deep breath, and I edged nearer the door. I had seen Dicky in a temper often, but this was something altogether foreign to my experience of him. I began to be afraid that his anger might change to a sudden burst of murderous rage.

"When I went to my physician at your father's urging," he began slowly, "although you tried to keep me from consulting one, he told me that I was being slowly poisoned."

"Poisoned?" My lips formed the word, but no sound came from them. I was incapable of speech or movement. Dicky was no longer like a madman, but instead more like an implacable, prosecuting attorney summing up his evidence. What nightmare was this which was oppressing me?

"Of course I scoffed at his finding, but he insisted and made me recount everything I ate and drank. He finally decided that the only thing I took which was unshared by others was that fruit juice powder. I nearly knocked him down when he told me that I must pretend to drink it each night, must go on just as I had done, breathing no word to anyone, but that I must throw away all of it except enough to bring him for analysis each day. I don't need to tell you the poison he found in it the very first time he tested it, although it took me quite a while to dope out where you could have gotten it. But I fancy great dramatic producers here—"

"Stop!" My voice was a shriek, so anguished that even Dicky, self-centered in his narrative, opened it.

"Do you mean to tell me that because a physician found poison in that drink, something that might be explained by an accident, you believed that of me?" But Dicky only laughed sneeringly.

"I thought you'd had that out," he said. "No, my angel of light, I didn't believe it of you until after weeks of analyzing that stuff every day, we found that at intervals varying from two days to almost a week, the poison kept recurring. Oh! it was well planned, so that I might not get ill too quickly. If it hadn't been for your father's insistence I would have been too far gone by the time I got here."

The bitter contempt of his tone was like the thrust of a jagged knife. But the very awfulness of the accusation had steeled me. I advanced a step toward him.

"I am asking you nothing for me," I said. "If for a single instant you could think that of me, then the end indeed has come for both of us. But I happen to be permitted to have a thing like this showing his life. For his sake, you've got to watch with me up at the apartment until I get at the bottom of this thing."

"I turned and fairly ran for the stairs. I was afraid that I might break down, and that to me now would have been unthinkable. I stumbled down the stairs, signaled the first taxicab I saw, directed the chauffeur to drive to the nearest telegraph station. And there I sent a wire to Hugh Grantland: "Am in terrible trouble. Please come at once."—Copyright, 1927.

SECOND HEARING ON DANCE BILL SET WEDNESDAY

Will Be Held Before Senate
County Affairs Committee
in Columbus

The second hearing on the bill to regulate public dance halls, which was introduced by Senator George H. Bender, of Cleveland, chairman of the committee, will be held at Columbus next Wednesday.

likely to wind up preliminary proceedings prior to final action in the senate, will be devoted chiefly to arguments against the bill. At the first senate committee session, held about a week ago, the time was taken up almost entirely by speakers advocating passage of the measure. When the hearing was concluded, Senator George H. Bender, of Cleveland, chairman of the committee, announced that the opposition would have the floor at the next meeting.

Local Speaker

Fred E. Gutzberg, Marion attorney representing the Crystal Lake Park Co., is expected to be among the speakers presenting arguments Wednesday night. In order to make the wind-up of their side of the debate as effective as possible, opponents of the bill will also present other capable speakers representing various interests. They will include an official of the Ohio Manufacturers' Association, which has been definitely aligned with advocates of the Hill measure since the fight opened.

Although it is generally predicted that the bill will meet its death in the senate, its advocates have not abandoned hope, according to H. E. Hill, Marion County legislator, who is supporting the Hill measure. Mr. Hill recently stated that the battle will continue until the first showdown in the senate. The fact that in the senate the bill was referred to a committee which is avowedly opposed to it.

Increase Signers

At the first hearing before the senate committee, the chairman, Mr. Bender, submitted a petition signed by 300 Cleveland residents approving Sunday dances and opposing the Hill bill. Later, according to press dispatches from Columbus, Bender augmented this showing by submitting additions to the petition increasing the number of signatures to 25,000.

Evidence that forces lined up in favor of the Hill measure are still in a fighting mood was apparent at Columbus, yesterday, when delegates at the mid-year executive meeting of the Ohio W. C. T. U. adopted a resolution condemning operation of public dance halls and endorsing the Hill bill.

The bill was passed recently in the house of representatives by a margin of one vote.

VICTOR RETAINS STATE JOB

Mrs. O. H. Hammonds, above, executive secretary of the Oklahoma state, retains her job. The senate has tabled a resolution, by a vote of 26 to 23, demanding that Governor Johnston dismiss her from office. Mrs. Hammonds is looked upon by her political opponents as the Johnson administration's "Colonel House," because she is an adviser to the governor in the affairs of state, and was accused by her opponents of directing political appointments.

Inset shows Governor Johnston. Mrs. Hammonds, in an interview, declared: "I am trying to make Henry S. Johnston's administration the best that Oklahoma ever has had. I am attempting to carry out, in a practical way, the idealistic hopes and ambitions that I know Governor Johnston has had in his heart and in his mind. I have become the governor's contact with the people of the state because I have been in touch with the masses ever since I was 12 years old."

HOUSE PASSES DODD MEASURE FOR TAX LEVY

Ohio Senate To Be Asked To Concur; Latter Approves Agler Bill

Columbus, Mar. 21.—The Ohio Senate today will be asked to concur in the action of the house which passed, by a vote of 70 to 36, the Dodd Bill providing for a direct state tax levy of a half-mill collectible next June. The levy would be effective for only one year.

The house today may take action on the Agler Bill, which passed the Senate by a vote of 27 to 5 late Wednesday, increasing the franchise tax levied on foreign corporations doing business in Ohio.

The two measures, it was estimated, will yield, if they become effective as laws, approximately $11,000,000 in state revenue during the 18-months' period beginning July 1, next.

The Dodd Bill, which passed the house Wednesday was amended so as to provide that all of the approximately $6,500,000 which the proposed tax levy is expected to yield shall be paid into the general revenue fund of the state and shall be available for "the general purposes of the state government."

Object to Fund Limit
The bill, as originally introduced, declared that the proceeds of this tax should be placed in a separate fund and be used only "for the purpose of affording the advantage of a free education to all youth of the state and for additions and betterments for state educational institutions."

These amendments were agreed upon by the house while sitting as a committee of the whole and were prompted, in part, at least, it was stated, by objections from some house members who opposed limiting the fund to schools and educational institutions.

The Agler Bill provides for increasing the corporation franchise tax from 1-2 to one per cent based upon net worth, to 1-3 of one per cent, based upon book values of outstanding shares, for this year and to 1-10 of one per cent for each year thereafter. This proposed revenue is expected to amount to about $1,500,000 during the 18-months' period beginning July 1, next.

Bill to Committee
The senate today is expected to refer to a special joint committee the bill, introduced by Sen. M. S. Kuhns, Dayton, late Wednesday, providing for creation and establishment of an inferior county court in each of Ohio's 88 counties, and repealing 230 sections of Ohio statutes relating to justices of the peace, sponsored, it was stated, by the Dayton Bar Association.

The bill would abolish mayor's courts and those of justices of the peace and authorize prosecution in the proposed inferior county courts of those cases heretofore handled in the mayor's courts and by justices of the peace.

This special committee, recently elected, has been empowered to determine what remedial legislation, if any, is needed as a result of the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision declaring unconstitutional provisions of Ohio laws authorizing village mayors and justices of the peace to receive as compensation part of the fines collected from liquor law violators.

By a vote of 21 to 4, the senate passed the Price Bill changing boundary lines of Ohio congressional districts. The bill now goes to the house. Just before passing the bill, the senate accepted an amendment eliminating Holmes County from the seventeenth district, but failed to transfer it to any other district. This situation, it was stated, will be corrected either through an amendment to be offered in the house or by the senate, after calling the bill back from the house and then repassing it.

Howitzer Five Defeats Juniors in Semi-Finals, 14-13

Martel Lion Tamers Trim K. of C. Quintet; Epworth and Midgets Enter Finals

Martel and Howitzers To Battle for Championship in Class A Amateur County Tourney Friday Night; Midgets and Epworth To Tie Up in Class B Games

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEI
Sports Editor, The Star

HOWITZER CO. and Martel Lion Tamers will battle for the amateur Marion County basketball championship in Class A, Friday night, and Epworth M. E. cagers will fight for the title against the Midgets in Class B. Tigers and Waldo Midgets will play in Class C.

The final lineup for the Class A and B divisions was established last night in the semi-finals when Howitzers defeated the Juniors of '26 in the second upset of Class A so far. The final score was 14 to 13. Martel Lion Tamers easily defeated the K. of C. quintet, 23 to 15, in the other semi-final contest of Class A.

Epworth M. E. cagers, although getting under way rather late in the game, came through with a 25 to 13 victory over the Harding Hi-Y. No. 1 outfit in the first game of Class B last night. The Midgets had no trouble with the Junior Midgets in their game, although the Juniors showed plenty of pep and fight up to the last minute. The final count was 28 to 13.

Probably the most thrilling contest of the tournament was witnessed last night when Howitzers nosed out the Juniors. Rife, right guard on the guardsmen crew, won the game when he dropped in the winning free throw in the last 30 seconds of play.

Outplay Juniors
Howitzers outplayed the Juniors most of the way. When the latter team did get an opening it was unable to find the bucket. The Junior defense was not all that it might have been while Howitzers showed better form than usual in this division of the game. From start to finish the Juniors did not seem able to get into their usual stride. Something was wrong somewhere. The usual pep and "talking it up" was sparsely lacking. The score at the half was 9 to 8 in favor of the guardsmen. At the end of the third quarter, Howitzers were leading 13 to 9, and

ANSON INELIGIBLE AT OHIO STATE

Pete Anson, graduate of Prospect High School, star Ohio State University, track man, is ineligible for varsity competition this year, it was announced at the university Wednesday.

Anson is a high jumper. He was considered one of the leading jumpers in the Western Conference last year and his loss to the Buckeye track squad will be keenly felt.

It was announced yesterday that Bob McMillan, star basketball player, and track man of Ohio State, is also ineligible for the remainder of the season because of scholastic difficulties.

The Juniors were helpless. They were out at their opponents' end at each other, and everything else in general. As a result, their passwork looked like that of a group of first-graders.

It was Joe Drake that finally broke the spell with a neat field goal from midcourt. The Juniors "pepped up" and Joe scored another bucket, doing the count at 13 all. With two minutes to play the battle began all over again, both teams fighting for a lead.

As luck would have it, Drake, who had led the rally and tied the score, fouled Rife in the last 30 seconds. The result was a 14 to 13 defeat and elimination from the tournament. With 10 seconds to go, Gillis had an opportunity to tie the count from the foul line but missed the hoop.

Howitzers Good
Howitzers played a wonderful game and should be given credit for every basket. They fought like demons. Points were evenly divided. Rife made five. Boulton four, Kellog three and Corfman two. Ward played a neat floor game but had few shots at the bucket. Drake made half of the Juniors' points.

Martel Lion Tamers outplayed the K. of C. crew during most of the skirmish. They were leading 17 to 11 at the end of the third quarter and had little trouble increasing the count.

The Casers suffered in the last few minutes when Sheehy was removed on personal fouls but the game was gone before he was benched. W. Clark of Martel was taken out at the same time.

The contest was another rough and tumble affair with the Lion Tamers getting the best of the free-for-all fight.

JOHNNY GERRY IN NEXT LOCAL BOXING SHOW

Will Meet Johnny Lee of Akron in Main Go Next Monday Night

The second boxing show of the season will be held at the Eagles' Hall Monday night. The main go will see the return of one of the most popular fighters ever turned out in Marion, when Johnny Gerry returns to the home town ring to face Johnny Lee of Akron.

Gerry needs no introduction to Marion ring fans. He piled up a record while living here that endeared him to the lovers of a good scrap. In Monday night's eight-round go he will face a tough boy who has been fighting and winning from the best in the game at 125 pounds. Lee has met, among others this winter season, Al Dundee, Jimmy Perry, Marty Harvath and Benny Gershe. He has given a good account of himself against all these boys, and comes to Marion with the reputation of being a real slugger.

These Marion fans who remember Gerry are due for a pleasant surprise. Johnny has been fighting frequently in the northern part of the state and is a much improved boxer, over the already finished product he was when he left Marion.

Semi-Final Card
The semi-final on Monday's card will see the return of Ray Newton, the Mansfield boy who made such a good impression here a couple of weeks ago in an eight-round draw with Clyde Tremaine. Newton will be sent against a tough Springfield boy, Jimmy Gafferty, over the six-round route.

Three four-round preliminaries round out what should be a well-balanced card. In these bouts local boys will oppose three lads from Springfield, who come here with good records.

Monday night's show will be staged in the large lodge hall on the third floor of the Eagles' building. This hall will take care of more than twice as many patrons, and there are no posts to obstruct the view. Every seat is a ring-seat. A new ring has been built, which is so elevated so that an unimpeded view can be had of the boxers, from every seat in the hall.

Judging from the advance sale of tickets for this show, the fans were well pleased with the last show. The committee in charge of boxing for the Eagles promises that the show Monday will surpass that held two weeks ago.

EAGLE MEMBERS ENJOY GOOD BOXING PROGRAM

Twelve rounds of fast boxing were enjoyed by members of the local lodge of Eagles last night after the regular weekly meeting. In the first bout of four rounds a couple of "zephyrweights," "Knockout" Miller and "Kid" Sanderson went to a draw. They weighed about 100 pounds.

In the second four-round set, Young Maloney of the Harding Guard Detachment, and Ray Snyder of Marion, at 128 pounds, put up a whale of a battle.

The final go found two Jones boys, "Kee" the local whirlwind, and "Kid" Jones of the guard detachment, in a real bout. Honors were even at the end of four rounds.

Semi-Final Contests to Be Staged at "Y" Today; Six Teams Still in Race

Vernon Heights and Pearl-st No. 2 Look Like Winners in Eighth and Seventh Grade Tourneys, Respectively; Both Run Wild in Preliminaries

OLNEY-AV seventh graders were to battle Oak-st school and Vernon Heights basketball teams were to take on Room 15 of Central Junior High this afternoon in the semi-finals of the seventh and eighth grade cage tournaments being held on the Y. M. C. A. gym courts this week. Finals will be held Friday afternoon.

Vernon Heights looks like an easy winner in the eighth grade division. In the first round this group of boys defeated its opponents 23 to 4 with only of Central, 29 to 1, and went into the finals on a bye. Room 15 won the other eighth grade game 17 to 5, defeating Room 20.

Pearl-st No. 2 is the probable winner of the seventh grade tourney. It went into the finals on a bye yesterday after defeating Pearl No. 1, 26 to 2. It will clash with the winner of the Olney-Oak game in the finals. Oak-st sailed into the semi-finals yesterday afternoon by doubling the score on Greenwood.

The tournament, which got under way Tuesday, is under the management of Hugh Shultz, with Harding High players doing the officiating.

Detroit Tigers Strongest Club in American League Athletics Second—Walsh

Cleveland Indians in Second Division, According to Sport Writer; Washington Senators Follow Athletics, with Yankees Coming Fourth; Tells Why

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, Mar. 31—Largely because the Detroit ball club in all probability will be fighting for its manager this season and not with him, the writer ventures today to name the tigers as potentially the strongest team in the American League up to and including this, the present moment. It has been an annual absurdity to declare in March what will happen in October, but there is no law against a man playing smart, even if he knows better; so that particular brand of locus pocus may well be retired from circulation.

Therefore, the clubs are listed below in the order of their potential strength, with an easy mind, or the equivalent:

Detroit Tigers, Philadelphia Athletics, Washington Senators, New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians, Chicago White Sox, St. Louis Browns, Boston Red Sox.

The Tigers have made only two changes between seasons but, speaking with malice toward none, both have been for the better. The addition of Marty McManus has staked the infield to the punch and steadiness it needed. The managerial trade of Moriarty for Cobb has given the club the peace and good will it never before has had.

Couldn't Win
With any kind of a break, this outfit might have won at least one pennant during the last five years, but either it couldn't or wouldn't win for Cobb. This version of its failure has been common gossip for years; so much so, in fact, that the Tigers were the hot tip of nearly every baseball man in the south this spring. The prophets can't go very far wrong, at that, in touting a club that has had good but manhandled pitching, fine catching, an adequate infield and three outfielders who hit over .355, not to mention a fourth who led the league during the greater part of the 1925 season.

Anything, of course, can happen in six months and many things will. White Sox, for example, would be a better bet at this writing if the unfortunate Mostil had delayed his attempted suicide by even six weeks.

Too Many Stars
The Philadelphia Athletics have more ball players than they know what to do with and, therefore, are racing below the pace. One man's guess on this ball club is as good as another. Put, off hand, I would hesitate to go too far with a team which does not know whether Collins or Bishop will play second base; Foley or Goss will be its shortstop; Hale or Dyer its third baseman; and Braum or Poole its first baseman, to say nothing of its superfluity of outfielders.

The Senators, with that wonderful outfield of Goshen, Speaker and Roca, smart variegated offenses and fast pitching might go anywhere but right now they seem to be no better than a third choice. They have a most promising squad of young pitchers but a promise becomes fulfillment. I may take it for granted that Harris' pitching will be a bit uncertain particularly with Johnson unavailable at this time. His catching also is open to dubious scrutiny and the question of whether Meyer will prove an adequate third baseman still is much in the air.

About Indians
It is no easy matter to rate the Indians in the second division for here is a club that is the capstone of anything. However, they lost the man who played ballers to perfection in centerfield. This Speaker, their inspiration and leader, and so far his successor has not been conspicuous to the inquiring eye. Speaker's passing seems certain to make a difference to the Indians; also there is a question of whether some of those young pitchers were at the level with their rather startling first-year performances.

A critic is bound to point out what is wrong. That is his legitimate function. It is not his business to propose the necessary improvements.

[Sonny Plays] An Old Game

The little fellow above tried to put one over on Mother. But Daddy's size 42 is a little more than he can manage.

Sonny's little game is, after all, as old as Adam. Take the history of malt, for instance. There are many brands on the market—mostly they have fancy labels, and they come in similar sized cans, too. In fact, they may be all dressed up like Puritan Malt. But have they, like Puritan, uniform Strength, Richness and Flavor? Are they, like Puritan, blended with genuine Imported Bohemian Hops? No wonder Puritan is America's favorite malt!

MARION COUNTY FARMERS MEET HERE TONIGHT

Corn Borer Conference To Be Held in Star Auditorium;
Demonstrations Scheduled

The largest meeting of the county will be held tonight, and two demonstrations taking place will be the most active in the county campaign against the European corn borer.

The Star Auditorium at 8 o'clock will be the meeting place for those interested in the fight against the borer from the entire county.
Arrangements are being made for a large crowd, and it is expected that a large number of business men, manufacturers, and farmers will be present with the farmers
coming in to see the motion pictures and hear the talks on the corn borer.

T. H. Parks To Talk
T. H. Parks, of Ohio State University, has been studying the corn borer for a number of years, and will give a talk tonight. The film for the demonstration is the close up study of the corn borer in this country and the damage it has been doing on for the past years.

Through weather this morning forecasters predicted demonstrations to be held today. This morning the demonstration was held at the farm of O. P. Shook, near Upper Sandusky. This afternoon there was a similar showing of the borer at the farm of John Buck, near Maumee. At these demonstrations the use of interest lay in the pictures being used to adjust present methods to plow under and destroy the corn stalks and stubble above ground. Some machinery dealers were present to show the new corn borer machines which have been designed to cope with the advance of the pest.

Over 100 men are present at the demonstration. The last night for the demonstration was held to acquaint the farmers with the corn borer campaign.
Great interest was shown in the talks given and like the meeting at Maumee on Tuesday night, many questions were asked.

ARRESTED ON COMPLAINT

Seven Counties Are Represented on This Page

AUDITOR FRY IS VICTORIOUS IN COURT FIGHT

Preparing To Certify Tax Duplicate to Treasurer After Long Delay

Bucyrus, Mar. 21.—County Auditor Charles Fry was preparing today to certify the Crawford County tax duplicate as taken from the new property appraisal to County Treasurer Frank McKeehan after a delay of several months caused by pending litigation.

Action of the state supreme court yesterday in issuing a writ of mandamus to Attorney General E. J. Turner authorizing him to instruct Auditor Fry to make the certification marked the close, at least for the present, of a contention that has disrupted in a measure both city and county machinery here since Jan. 1 last.

Treasurer McKeehan was today anxiously awaiting information from Attorney General Turner in regard to earliest possible date that he may start the collection of taxes.

It was not known today whether the 13 taxpayers of the county who secured an injunction through the Crawford County Common Pleas court restraining Fry from certifying the tax duplicate would seek further court action on the issue or not.

As a result of the court action over the tax duplicate certification, the City of Bucyrus and the Bucyrus Board of Education have been forced to borrow funds to continue operation. County funds have also been greatly depleted by the delay in the collection of taxes.

Wyandot County Corn Borer Gathering Outlined at Upper Sandusky

UPPER SANDUSKY, Mar. 21.—A cleaning up by order of the Dominion government without any recompense. Mr. Hanger explained that there was considerable corn borer damage in winter wheat that could be taken care of by a "double beat" without injury to the wheat. He said this "double beat" would also be available for those wanting to prepare ground for corn without plowing.

Donnan Talks. Ray E. Donnan, acting as emergency agent, explained that the machinery and operation would be on the job as soon as the supervisor and inspectors are appointed. He explained the farmers can get to their local extension for information. Those present stated that many Wyandot County farmers had already started cleaning up and all would be at it as soon as weather permitted field operation.

Donnan arranged with men from the various townships the schedule of meetings. All at 7:30 o'clock at night. Seymour, Seymour, school tonight; Pitt Township, Harper Lodge rooms.

ASHLEY SCHOOLS TO BE MADE CLASS A, CLAIM

State Inspector Compliments Board of Education on Recent Developments

Ashley, Mar. 21.—L. L. Louthan, inspector of teacher training departments from the State Department of Education, Columbus, in a recent visit to Ashley, complimented the local board of education on the developments of the school year and promised to put Ashley in Class A by Sept. 1, this year, if all present plans can be completed by that time.

The board of education has had additional responsibilities this year and teachers have done extra work with the result that the standard of the school has been raised. The advent of a teacher training department instead of being a hindrance has been the means of putting the school to the top. The community is interested in the plans of beautifying the school grounds, organization of a parent teacher association, providing playground equipment and other necessary changes which must be made.

THE MARION STAR

PUBLIC TURNING TO QUALITY IN AUTOS, CLAIM

Marmon Motor Co. Officials Say New Eight Growing in Popularity

Public interest toward automobiles has increased quality and a rapid increase in the two-car-per-family type has been the highlight of the 1927 season. According to H. H. Brooks, general manager of the Marmon Motor Co., the new Marmon series 75 are keeping pace with the phenomenal acceptance of the Marmon eight, introduced at the beginning of the year.

As a result of the growing public interest, the full line of quality automobiles which has resulted in a very large increase in our sales, indicates that the motorist is turning to quality in his choice of automobiles. In fact, the motorist is turning to quality in his choice of automobiles. In fact, the motorist is turning to quality in his choice of automobiles.

The two-car-per-family idea, according to Marmon officials, is rapidly gaining momentum. Countless families, it is estimated, now own large cars as well as smaller ones. The Marmon eight, which is more readily adaptable to congested traffic conditions, is the car of choice.

Many families have not owned two cars because it was not possible to obtain a small automobile that retained the advantages and quality features of the larger car. Mr. Brooks states, "The new Marmon Eight has been accepted as the car the public has been waiting for to bring the two-car-per-family idea into a prominent place in the automotive picture."

Automobiles everywhere are recognizing the value of excellent engine performance of improved appearance with a touch of individuality, and a comfort that comes with a car that has exceptional roadability. Because of this fact both the large Marmon series 75 and the new Marmon eight are creating sales records representative of the sharpest gains ever made in the automotive industry.

SPORT CAR SALES GROWING RAPIDLY

The rapid gain in the popularity of open cars of the sport type is shown in sales of the little Marmon eight two and four-passenger speedsters. Custom-built cars of the same type on the large Marmon series 75 chassis also are in brisk demand.

NEW MODEL OF VALVE INSURES LUBRICATION

Anti-Scuff Type Designed by Marmon Engineers Solves
Problem, Claim

Even when the most efficient lubricating system is employed in a motor car it is an established fact that there is a lack of lubrication in the cylinders at the time of starting and during the warming-up period. This is true particularly in cold weather when the oil becomes more or less congealed.

Marmon engineers have taken an important step in overcoming this difficulty in the engine of the new little Marmon eight. Through the use of an anti-scuff valve, a small quantity of oil is forced on each cylinder at the time of starting, thus insuring proper lubrication even before circulation of the oil has started. The valve operates from the starting motor pedal.

Will Prolong Life
Use of the new device will prolong the life of the engine to a considerable extent since it will eliminate the usual wear on the cylinders at the time of starting.

The oil pump in the little Marmon is located in the crankcase and is submerged in oil so that it will function at all times. It is equipped with a pressure regulating valve which automatically keeps the system supplied with the proper quantity of oil at all speeds. Main bearings, camshaft bearings, connecting rod bearings and valve rockers all are lubricated under pressure.

BODY CONSTRUCTION

The ever-growing importance of body engineering has been given additional emphasis in the Marmon organization by the appointment of L. H. Rhein as body engineer. This appointment has just been announced by Thomas J. Little, Jr., chief engineer. Mr. Rhein formerly was body engineer of the Lincoln division of the Ford Motor Company.

FIFTY STUDENTS INSPECT NASH MOTORS PLANT

Great Lakes Naval Training
Station Aviation Corps Study
Production Operations

Inspection of the various operations entailed in the production of the Nash car was made last week by a delegation of 50 students of the Aviation Corps of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station under the supervision of Lieut. Commander Weiss. Like many universities and other institutions of learning in the central west, the Naval Training station has made inspection of the Nash plant and other industrial plants, a part of the school curriculum. Among the other schools to send students to the Nash factory, under the guidance of professors and instructors, are to University of Illinois, school of engineering; Northwestern University, school of commerce; University of Wisconsin, Armour Institute; Ohio Northern University; University of Kansas; University of Arkansas; Purdue University; Lake Forest College; University of Oklahoma, school of engineering; Green College of Automotive Engineering; and a number of high schools.

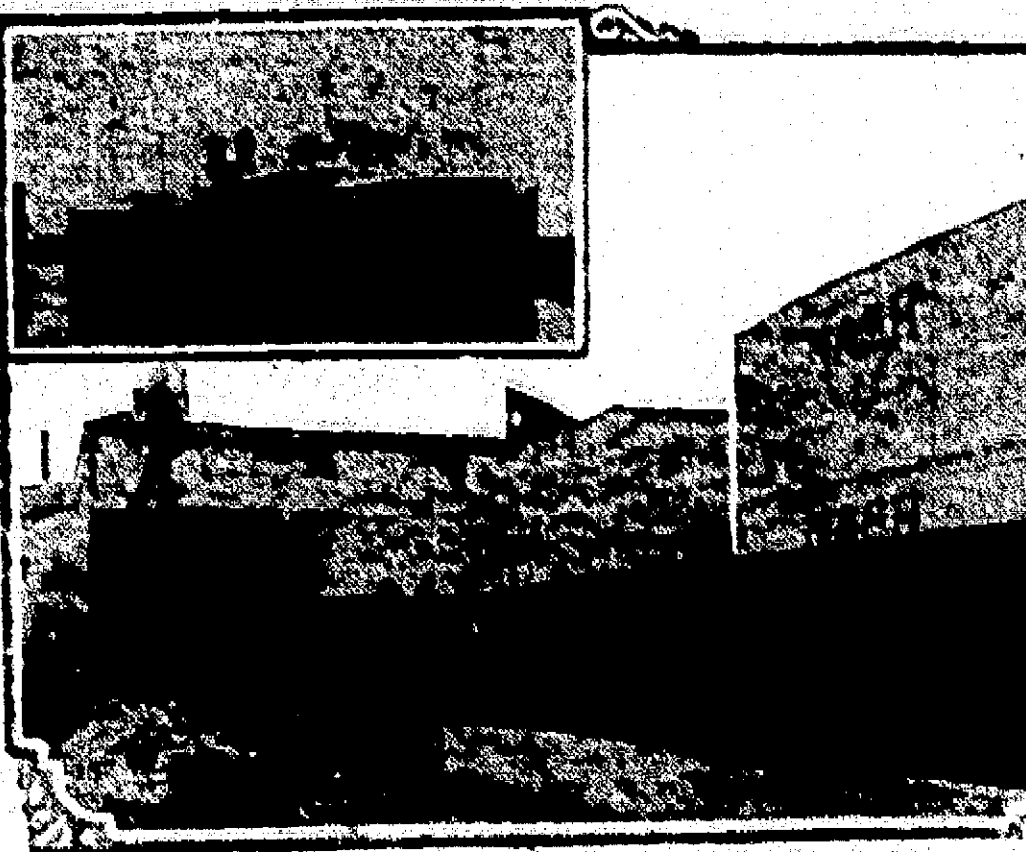

Keen Interest

These students express keen interest in the various processes that go to make up the completed car and usually are outspoken in their amazement at the lengths to which Nash Motors goes in the safeguarding of quality through a most complete system of inspection and tests. They never fail to comment, for instance, on the fact that tests are made of each shipment of steel, even before the material is unloaded from the cars. It is explained to them that under this severe laboratory test the steel must show that it has precisely the right percentage of carbon, nickel, chromium and other elements suited to the purpose for which it is to be used. Passing the laboratory test the steel is then sent to the various departments for fabrication. A Brinell test for hardness is made of each four-draw mixture daily—an unusual practice.

DOUBLE IGNITION

Double fire ignition is used in the large Marmon series 75 without resorting to the multiplicity of parts that has been a distinct drawback to this type of ignition. Increased power, greater acceleration, a smoother flow of power and greater economy of fuel consumption thus are accomplished.

A Boat Load of Nash Automobiles For Its Maiden Trip

Railroad officials and representatives of Nash Motors joined the crew in cheering as the boat pulled out for Grand Haven, Mich. The Madison attracted nationwide interest a short time ago when it was christened with milk, emblematic of Wisconsin's leading industry.

AJAX AND NASH SERVICE BEST IN CITY, CLAIM

Department Operated in Conjunction with Agency Has Many Advantages

Millard E. Baldwin, service manager of The Ajax-Nash-Wills Service Co., which operates the official service station for Nash motor cars, points out many advantages to a Nash owner in having his work done at an authorized service station.

Not only the service manager but all employees of the local company are factory trained, it being the policy of the company to at least once a year to send each employee to the factory service school. Here complete courses are given in the use of special tools designed to aid in turning out the work of the service station in shortest possible time and in the most accurate manner. The possibility of error is reduced to the minimum by the use of these tools.

All the minor troubles that are found to develop in any particular type of machine, no matter how well it is designed and constructed, are discussed at the service school and the proper remedies explained to the students.

Bulletins Furnished

Every Nash service station is furnished regularly with bulletins by Nash engineers dealing with all problems that turn up in the servicing of cars between the sessions of the service school. Consequently the knowledge of official Nash mechanics is kept constantly up to date and patrons benefit from the experience of all the Nash service stations in the United States.

The service station of The Ajax-Nash-Wills Service Co. is completely equipped with Nash service tools and in addition to being in a position to furnish prompt service at the least possible expense, will free of charge inspect any Nash car and advise what is needed to place the car in the best possible shape and furnish an estimate of the cost. In addition to the complete equipment of special tools and small machinery a very complete line of genuine Nash parts is carried on hand for any job that is delayed by it being necessary to order any parts from the distributor or factory.

The equipment for road service is very complete, consisting of a Nash service car that is used on calls that require speed in getting to the scene of the accident and in effecting roadside repairs for the towing of a disabled car to the service station.

Included in an array of superb facilities.

MARMON SALES ON STEADY INCREASE

In one of the most rapid sales expansions in the history of the automotive industry, the Marmon Motor Car Co. has doubled its distributor and dealer organization since Jan. 1, H. H. Brooks, Marmon's general sales director, has announced.

CARBURETION IS SOLVED IN NEW MARMON, CLAIM

Officials Say Engineers Have Reached Solution to Problem in Latest Car

Efficient carburetion is the right-hand engine, always a problem to automotive engineers, has been solved in the new little Marmon by a new type of down-draught manifold. The means of this system, the gasoline mixture is drawn to a point above and equidistant from each cylinder so that the distribution is even and dependable at all times.

In the new little Marmon straight eight engine, each cylinder is supplied with an equal amount of fuel in exactly the same degree of vaporization, and the end cylinders cannot be "starved." Thus, extreme flexibility and an unusually wide range of operation is obtained through clean-cut combustion.

The arrangement of the intake manifold is one of the features of the new small car which is being displayed at 1927 motor car displays as a part of Marmon's full line of quality automobiles. With a piston displacement of only 100 cubic inches, automotive authorities agree that the new little Marmon engine delivers more power and a wider range of performance in proportion to its displacement than any other production engine.

By this car the Company operates a service truck that is the only service truck in the city of Marion using a regular truck chassis. The equipment of this truck consists of a working crane, facilities for towing cars in cases where wheels have been removed. The company is very proud of the fact that this truck has never yet failed to handle any job in which it was called.

It is the Old Home Paper that will have kind words for you when you are brought back to be laid in the old home cemetery. Now is the time to subscribe.

EMPLOYEES OWN $17,000,000 IN STOCK IN NASH

Total Does Not Include Amount
Held by Heads of Huge Corporation

Seventeen million dollars worth of Nash Motors stock is owned by employees of the company.

This was revealed yesterday and it was pointed out that none of this stock includes that owned by the directing heads of the company. Practically every foreman in the Nash plants and hundreds of men who work on the "bench," including many salaried employees, those employed on a time basis and those employed on the basis of piece work, are included among the company's stockholders.

These members of the great Nash Motors organization, most of whom work on the actual production of the car itself, have a primary interest in the success of the company and in the quality of the product they are building.

Encourage Thrift

It is pointed out that while at no time has an employee of the Nash Motors Co. been urged to buy stock, the officers and other directing heads of the organization have been pleased with the habits of sound living and thrift which have made possible the purchase of most of the $17,000,000 worth of stock on the part of employees. Ever since the Nash Motors Co. was organized, over 10 years ago, C. W. Nash and his associates have encouraged the purchase of home and habits of thrift.

The employees have a club at each of the company's plants for social and athletic activities. Membership in these clubs is popular, the clubs comprising about 90 per cent of all Nash employees. They have their own motion picture machines, their orchestras and, with the aid of the company, maintain a band. The Kenosha factory, to illustrate, is divided into 50 wards each ward selecting a representative to the advisory council, and the advisory council elects a board of directors of 15 members; the directors then appoint various committees in charge of the different activities of the club.

The Nash Motors Co. maintains for the benefit of its employees an athletic field, tennis courts, club house and baseball field with grand stand and bleachers, having a seating capacity for 6,000 people.

If success doesn't turn the average man's head it's because he has a life work.

DIMENSION ECONOMY

The term dimensional economy frequently is used in describing the construction of the new little Marmon eight. As applied to automobiles, as well as to almost every other line of merchandise, dimensional economy may be defined as the principle of making things better, more efficient and more beautiful through the elimination of unnecessary excesses in size and weight.

SPEED TEST

In a seven-passenger large Marmon sedan with two associates, L. D. Fritz, Marmon distributor in Wichita Falls, Tex., recently made the remarkable time of 23 1/2 hours from Wichita Falls to Indianapolis, a distance of 1,065 miles.

HEAVY DEMAND

Marmon factories are operating at full capacity in order to meet the demand this season for the large Marmon series 75 and the new little Marmon eight. Night shifts are being operated in all departments in an effort to keep abreast of the demand.

MANY OPERATIONS

In the building of one standard Marmon automobile, 13,550 separate operations are performed in the Marmon plant. Inspection operations alone total nearly 3,000, thus giving Marmon cars their well-earned reputation for precision.

SWINEHART TIRES

are used by Walter E. Hane, of the Hane-Nash Co., on his new Nash light 6 coupe and also on the service truck of the Ajax-Nash-Wills Service Co.

Mr. Hane reports that satisfactory service is being given by the tires on both machines.

Setting the Style-Pace for the Industry

The superb group of Nash enclosed models have established Nash more solidly than ever as the ruling style authority for the industry.

Of richest individuality in design, arrestingly smart in their color harmonies, and fitted throughout with lavish completeness, they are completely obsoleting all previously accepted ideas of motor car beauty and luxury in their price-fields.

The Ambassador, on the full 127-in. Advanced Six wheelbase, and its companion car on the Special Six chassis, the Cavalier (pictured above) have created an entirely new vogue in enclosed car style. And this same brilliant vogue has recently found expression in two distinguished new developments entitled the "Special" Sedans—on the Advanced and Special Six chassis.

In the $1000 field, Nash has swept to undisputable leadership with the alluring new De Luxe Light Six Sedan (also illustrated here)—a car of luxurious quality at surprisingly low cost.

All these outstanding style cars are likewise leaders in performance. For they are powered with 7-bearing crankshaft motors—the world's smoothest type, as are all other Nash models.

STEERING STABILIZER
NEW MARMON FEATURE

Disadvantages of Four-Wheel
Bikes and Balloon Tires
Overcome, Claim

The chief disadvantage of four-wheel bikes and full size balloon tires is so essential to the modern automobile, has been the tendency of the wheels to "shimmy" or oscillate. The series 75 line of large Marmon automobiles, introduced to the public last fall, this obstacle was successfully overcome by the adoption of a new steering stabilizer in combination with a steering stabilizer of Marmon patent.

The stabilizer itself is a friction device, mounted to the top of the front axle, which resists any tendency toward side motion of the cross rod, and, at the same time, offers no resistance to the steering action of the wheel. Thus, the front wheels always are held in a steady position, and cannot oscillate in the fashion that is so distasteful to the driver.

The steering system of the large Marmon employs the new Marles type steering gear. The front axle is of the reverse Elliott type which enables a unique feature in supporting the entire weight of the car on ball bearings on the top of the steering knuckle.

BREAKS RECORDS

At the recent Pacific Coast Motor show in San Francisco, Marmon broke several important records. A check of the records revealed that an average of 13 to one visitors at the main entrance lived for the Marmon exhibit as compared to any other single car. A new high mark for sales of fine cars was established, and the number of demonstrations given during show week exceeded any other record.

FOREIGN TRADE

The Marmon company recently closed contracts with dealers in Tientsin, China, and Cairo, Egypt. At the International Motor Exposition in Cairo recently, two little Marmon cars were displayed.

FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES

All Marmon cars have four-wheel brakes of the mechanical, self-energizing type. Brake linings are completely enclosed and are protected from water, dirt and grease.

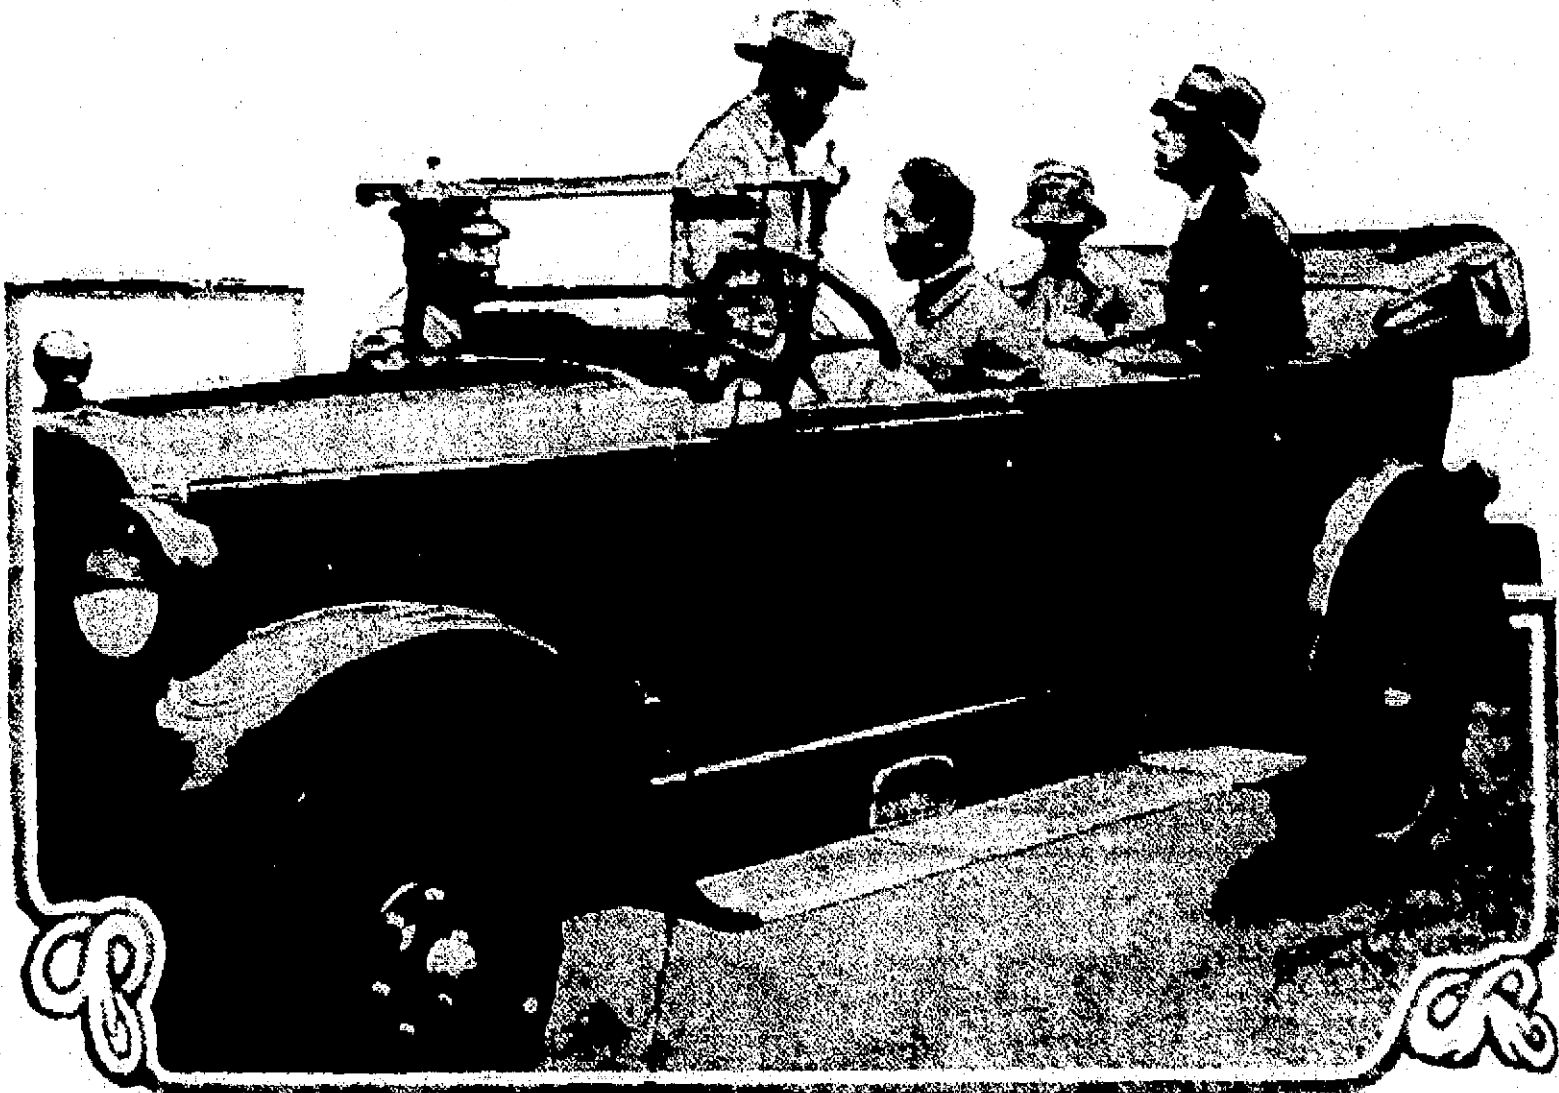

OLD CONCERN

The Marmon company is one of America's oldest manufacturers of machinery requiring extreme accuracy, having been in continuous operation since 1851.

OIL PURIFIER

An oil purifier of exclusive design is used on the large Marmon Series 75. This device not only filters but distills carbon, preventing the formation of the oil, thus removing abrasives and carbon, preventing the formation of sulphuric acid, increasing the life of the bearings and decreasing starting difficulties in cold weather.

NASH INTRODUCES NEW MODELS

THE NEW SPECIAL SIX CABRIOLET
Equipped with Rumble Seat—Model 241

The New Advanced Six Coupe—Model 266

The New Nash Advanced Six Sport Touring—Model 271

Three brand new models—a Cabriolet, with a rumble seat, on the Special Six chassis, a Coupe, with rumble seat, on the Advanced Six chassis, and a Sport Touring model on the Advanced Six chassis—are announced by the Nash Motors Company. The Cabriolet being shipped to dealers now, is priced at $1,290 f. o. b. Milwaukee; the Coupe lists at $1,775 f. o. b. Kenosha, and the Sport Touring is priced at $1,540 f. o. b. Kenosha. Shipments of the Sport Touring car will begin before the end of the month and of the Coupe about April 1. With the addition of these new cars the Nash line comprises twenty-six models, ranging in price from $365 to $2,090 f. o. b. factory, and all of them equipped with 7-bearing crankshaft motors.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT
NEW MODELS

There are wide glass windows that may be lowered or raised with the top either up or down; a genuine walnut steering wheel with comfortable hand grip, and beautifully inlaid instrument panel of the walnut finish. The forward sweeping rear deck adds rakish length to the design of the car which is accentuated by the graceful curve of the belt molding. There is a spacious compartment opening on the right side, for carrying golf clubs or parcels.

The trunk serves as the spare wheel carrier. The smaller size 20 inch wire wheels make the car low and add charm to its appearance, though providing ample room for road clearance. The wheels are equipped with 32 by six inch tires. There are also nickel-plated steering column, full nickel-plated head lamps and coil lamps, nickel-plated and radiator cap.

The distinctive unstuffed upholstery is of shark grain leather, black in color to harmonize with the hood and radiator cap.

Since this five passenger car is built on the 127-inch wheel base chassis, it has been possible even with spacious room in the tonneau, to provide a large locker pocket, set into the rear of the driving seat. This locker is hinged at the lower end.

Access to it is from a large door which opens outward into the tonneau. In addition to spacious side pockets on the tonneau doors, there are extra pockets on either side of the tonneau seat, thus giving ample space for the many small articles so often carried by motor motorists.

The color harmony of the advanced six sport touring model is beige below the belt and lustrous black above with orange striping on the belt band to give the two tone color scheme for harmonious with orange wire wheels, it is distinctive and charming.

The little
MARMON

A M E R I C A ' S F I R S T

T R U L Y F I N E S M A L L C A R

THE fine small car is here. It offers for the first time in the history of automobiles, the highest type of fine car practice in a size which completely meets present-day traffic needs—plus a type of performance so brilliant and amazing as to pull you completely out of your old motoring groove and make you forget the cars which only yesterday you thought were wonderful.

Specifically, here are a few of the more important results:

70 honest miles per hour with ease. Ability to maintain top speed hour after hour without strain.

Fastest acceleration ever known, due to new discoveries in line-eight carburetion and scientific valve design.

Lightning-quick gear shift—and remarkably easy in all phases of driving and handling.

18-22 miles per gallon of gasoline. Oil consumption practically negligible.

Easy riding as cars twice its weight due to basic new comfort factors applied for first time to smaller car design.

Naturally, such a development was accompanied by many new and basic developments. For example:

An Eight-in-Line Motor

which delivers more power and a wider range of performance in proportion to its displacement than any other engine in the world, outside of aviation and the speedway. More speed than you can ever use—yet with an economy which to the technical mind appears little short of miraculous.

HANE-NASH CO. TAKES OVER MARMON AGENCY

Announcement of Change Is Received Here from Indianapolis Factory Offices

The Hane-Nash Co., which tomorrow will take over the Hane-Nash Motor Sales, N. Main st., has been named agent for the Marmon line of motor cars according to word received here today from Indianapolis.

For several years Marmon cars have been sold through the Marion Truck Co.

The Hane-Nash Co. will become the agent for this make of auto Friday.

PUBLIC TURNING TO QUALITY AUTOMOBILE

A decided trend toward automobiles of unquestioned quality and a rapid spreading of the two-car-per-family idea are two highlights of the 1927 season, according to H. H. Brooks, general sales director of the Marmon Motor Car Company, who announced that sales of the large Marmon Series 75 are keeping pace with the seasonal acceptance of the new Marmon Eight, introduced at this winter's automobile show.

Approval by the motoring public of Marmon's full line of quality motor cars, which has resulted in a very great increase in our sales, indicates that the motorist is turning to quality cars not only where large luxurious cars are desired, but also where transportation requirements should conform to present-day traffic conditions," declares Mr. Brooks.

Marmon rounded out its line of quality cars this season by the addition of its eight-cylinder chassis on which is mounted seven standard body styles and four custom-built styles. On the large Marmon Series 75 the company is offering ten standard body styles and an unlimited range of custom bodies which are built by the country's foremost designers.

The two-car-per-family idea, according to Marmon officials, is rapidly gaining favor. Countless families, it is declared, who now own large cars are finding it necessary to purchase smaller automobiles which are more readily adaptable to congested traffic conditions.

"Many families have not owned two cars because it was not possible to obtain a small automobile that retained the advantages and quality features of the large car," Mr. Brooks says. "The new little Marmon Eight has been accepted as the car the public has been waiting for to bring the two-car-per-family idea into a prominent place in the automotive picture."

"Motorists everywhere are recognizing the value of excellent engine performance, of improved appearance with a distinct touch of individuality, and of the comfort that comes with a car which has exceptional roadability. Because of this fact both the large Marmon Series 75 and the new Marmon Eight are creating sales records representing one of the sharpest gains ever known in the automotive industry."

MARMON CARS ARE MAKING DECIDED HIT

Public acceptance of the new little Marmon Eight at this winter's automobile show throughout the country is one of the outstanding events of 1927 in the automotive world, according to reports received from those cities in which automobile shows have been held.

In both production and sales Marmon this year is establishing one of the largest percentage of increase ever recorded in the industry. As a result of this record demand it has been necessary for the Marmon factories in Indianapolis to increase production schedules to a substantial extent and the company's plants are now operating at capacity in order to meet the requirements of its distributors and dealers.

Since January 1 nearly 200 new distributors and dealers have been added to the Marmon sales organization and applications are being received at so rapid a rate that company officials believe the number of sales outlets will be doubled within the next sixty days. These new connections promise even greater popularity for the large Marmon Series 75 since its presentation will be more complete than ever before.

"The striking success of Marmon's full line of quality automobiles has been made evident in many definite ways since the new little Marmon Eight was introduced early this year," H. H. Brooks, general sales director of the Marmon company, has announced. "Not only is the large Marmon Series 75 selling at early season volume, but the demand for our new small Eight is reflecting the desire of buyers of fine cars for just this type of automobile."

"The new little Marmon is a distinct innovation in the automotive world, since it combines the beauty, power, stamina and riding comfort of the large, luxurious car with the flexibility of the small car in this age of parking and traffic difficulties. In other words, the small Eight is a large fine motor car in a compact form and, just as its companion the large Marmon Series 75, is built entirely in Marmon factories to Marmon methods of precision manufacture."

NEGRO CHARGED WITH HOLD-UP IS BOUND OVER

Mike Dye, 27, Detroit, Pleads
Guilty To Carrying Weapons;
Bond $3,000

Mike Dye, 27, Detroit negro arrested about a week ago as an alleged accomplice in the hold-up and shooting of R. L. Goetting at his Lee-st grocery on the night of Jan. 15, was arraigned in Municipal Court yesterday afternoon on two charges, carrying concealed weapons and shooting with intent to kill.

Dye pleaded guilty to the concealed weapon charge and was bound over to the grand jury under $3,000 bond. He entered a plea of not guilty to the shooting charge and his preliminary hearing was set for 10 o'clock Saturday morning. His bond in this count was fixed at $5,000.

When Dye is arraigned, Sheriff Deal, who arrested the negro after several weeks of investigation, expects to bring in Mr. Goetting in an effort to have him identify the prisoner as one of the two men who attempted to hold him up. The pair, both negroes, were driven away from the store in a gun battle with Goetting.

The charge of shooting with intent to kill was filed against Dye on Feb. 5 after Sheriff Deal received information which convinced him that Dye had been implicated in the Goetting holdup. The hunt for Dye and his accomplice started at that time and finally resulted in Dye's capture. The sheriff states that he has clues which are expected to land the other negro soon.

MARION MAILING CLERK RETURNS FROM FLORIDA

J. F. Kerr Ends Special Assignment at St. Petersburg; Resumes Work Here

J. F. Kerr, 247 E. Church-st., mailing clerk at the local postoffice, has returned from St. Petersburg, Fla., where he was on special assignment duty during the winter. Mr. Kerr left for Florida on Dec. 1 and since that time had charge of a branch money order station in St. Petersburg.

Population of a number of the Florida cities is practically doubled during the winter season by temporary residents from the north and this necessitates increasing the postal force with experienced men from offices elsewhere.

L. T. Dickinson and Albert Bechtel, local mail carriers, have been in the carrier service at Daytona, Fla., during the winter. Mr. Dickinson's service there terminates today and he is expected to return in about a week to resume work at the local office. Mr. Bechtel will remain at Daytona another month.

Frank Gruber Purchases Rule & Dombaugh Hardware Business

Frank Gruber, former Marion resident, has purchased the Rule & Dombaugh hardware store at Mt. Gilead and took possession of the business today.

The store was operated a number of years by the firm of Rule & Dombaugh but some time ago a receivership proceeding was started to dissolve the partnership. This resulted in appointment of C. W. Schaaf as receiver with authority to operate the business until it could be sold to good advantage.

Mr. Gruber, who formerly owned a grocery on N. Main-st., resided in Florida during the last two years, returning recently to negotiate purchase of the Mt. Gilead business.

GERMANY PRINTS LESS BOOKS THAN BEFORE WAR

Berlin, Mar. 31.—Fewer books are being published in Germany now than before the war. It is reported from Leipzig, the great center of the German book trade, that in 1926 13,602 volumes were published throughout Germany. This figure indicates a decrease by about 10 per cent. of the number of books which were published by German publishers in 1913.

The decrease is not uniform in various "lines" of books. Volumes dealing with subjects of art and elaborate editions generally are not as frequent as they used to be, in fact last year only about 100 titles as many such "luxury" books were published as in 1926. Children's books are now a flourishing business, publishers report and the number of books on purely scientific subjects is increasing all the time.

A silent boy is a fascinating individuality: "for the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts," as Longfellow says.
